Barrett, 2016-05-23 The notion of the individual creator a product in part of the Western romantic ideal is now troubled by accounts and explanations of creativity as a social construct While in collectivist cultures the assimilation but not the denial of individual authorship into the complexities of group production and benefit has been a feature the notion of the lone individual creator has been persistent Systems theories acknowledge the role of others yet at heart these are still individual views of creativity focusing on the creative individual drawing upon the work of others rather than recognizing the mutually constitutive elements of social interactions across time and space Focusing on the domain of music the approach taken in this book falls into three sections investigations of the people processes products and places of collaborative creativity in compositional thought and practice explorations of the ways in which creative collaboration provides a means of crossing boundaries between disciplines such as music performance and musicology and studies of the emergence of creative thought and practice in educational contexts including that of the composer and the classroom The volume concludes with an extended chapter that reflects on the ways in which the studies reported advance understandings of creative thought and practice The book provides new perspectives to our understandings of the role of collaborative thought and processes in creative work across the domain of music including composition musicology performance music education and music psychology Arts Education ,2023-11-09 Arts Education A Global Affair highlights the adaptations that arts educators and researchers have undertaken to successfully adjust to the changes in arts education practices as a consequence of the global pandemic and its ongoing variants Moreover teaching and research in arts education have changed significantly as a consequence of the world wide pandemic COVID 19 Emerging variants have exacerbated the situation and show no signs of subsiding In response to these challenges arts educators and researchers have developed new modes of instructional delivery and data collection These include asynchronous synchronous hybrid and bi modal online learning and online questionnaires surveys focus groups and video interviews This volume highlights the adaptations that arts educators and researchers have undertaken to successfully adjust to this new reality in education Writing about Music D. Kern Holoman,2014-09-05 Where do you place the hyphen in Beethoven if it breaks between two lines How do you cite John Coltrane s album A Love Supreme Is it premiere or premi re The answers and much more can be found in this definitive resource for authors students editors concert producers anyone who deals with music in print Extending the principles devised for the classical repertoires this revised and expanded edition now includes examples from world music rock jazz popular music and cinema This essential volume covers some of the thorniest issues of musical discourse how to go about describing musical works and procedures in prose the rules for citations in notes and bibliography and proper preparation of such materials as musical examples tables and illustrations One section discusses program notes while others explain the requirements for submitting manuscripts and electronic files and outline best practices for student writers An appendix lists common problem words Updates include greatly simplified citations of Internet locators the recognition of multiple platforms and the expectation of paperless transmission and storage of work Cited as the authority by The Chicago Manual of Style this classic handbook is the go to source for anyone writing about music
