Aging In Place Aging In Place:

Environmental Influences on Aging in Place Dina G. Battisto, 2004 Aging in Place Ellen D. Taira, Jodi L. Carlson, 1999
Offering architects social workers gerontologists and others a discussion of residential designs and adaptations for aging adults this volume represents the results of studies on elderly people's environmental needs and preferences Topics covered in the volume's eight chapters include the effect different types of housing have on quality of life and self maintenance and mutual care in India Simultaneously co published as Physical and Occupational Therapy in Geriatrics Volume 16 Numbers 3 4 1999 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Aging in Place Leon A. Pastalan, 1990 In this highly practical volume the contributing authors explore some of the dimensions associated with aging in place There are increasing numbers of older Americans who are faced with fundamental changes in their economic circumstances health and marital status which have an impact on their ability to age in place Without the necessary supports many may have no other choice but to be prematurely or inappropriately placed in costly health care facilities or be forced to move into unfamiliar less safe less satisfactory housing environments Aging in Place explores some of the dimensions associated with aging in place and informs readers about unmet needs and available living options for elderly persons Experts discuss a number of crucial factors regarding the availability of social supports and the impact it has on the independence of the elderly specifically their living arrangements They address the issue of control and how access to social contact and real choices about services and facilities increases independence among the elderly congregate housing as an alternative to nursing care for those elderly too frail for less supportive housing discharge policies concerning frailty in senior living arrangements and the lack of a full range of services in many alleged full service communities Ethnography of Aging in Place in a Rural Town: Health Care Access and Relocation Diane L. Norcio, 2006 Major concepts Aging in place and political economy of aging in a rural area Handbook on Aging and Place Malcolm Cutchin, Graham D. Rowles, 2024-04-12 Moving away from studies of aging in place this forward looking Handbook focuses on aging and place offering a broader scope and more nuanced complex and enlightening understanding of these two intertwined universals of human experience Not only examining the latest literature the chapters also challenge current thinking on the many intersections opportunities and issues around place and aging that need to be addressed through policy and practice Aging in Place James Callahan Jr, 2019-06-04 Aging in place is among the newer terms to be included along with senior citizen golden agers and others in the lexicon of gerontology Since aging is a lifelong process and each of us occupies three dimensional space we are of course always aging in place but two factors have caused aging in place to emerge as a salient concern for gerontological policy makers The first is the explosive growth of homeownership after World War II the other is the perception that thousands of older people have been flowing into nursing homes unnecessarily when they can and should remain in their own home or apartment How to Age in Place Mary A. Languirand, Ph.D., Robert F. Bornstein, Ph.D., 2013-09-03 The first authoritative and comprehensive guide to aging in place a burgeoning movement for those who don't want to rely on assisted living or nursing home care which allows seniors to spend their later years living comfortably independently and in their own home or community For millions of Americans living in a nursing home or assisted living facility is not how they'd prefer to spend their retirement years This is why more and more people are choosing to age in place In this empowering and indispensable book clinical psychologists and aging specialists Mary Languirand and Robert Bornstein teach readers how with planning and foresight they can age with dignity and comfort in the place of their own choosing How to Age in Place offers useful actionable advice on financial planning making your home physically safe getting around obtaining necessary services keeping a healthy mind body and spirit and post retirement employment A necessary resource for seniors their adult children and eldercare professionals How to Age in Place is both a practical roadmap and inspirational guide for the millions of seniors who want to make their own decisions and age well

Aging People, Aging Places Maxwell Hartt, Samantha Biglieri, Mark W. Rosenberg, Sarah Nelson, 2021-03-31 Bringing together academic research practitioner reflections and personal narratives from older adults across Canada this text provides a rare spotlight on the local implications of aging in Canadian cities and communities They provide a wide ranging and comprehensive discussion of how to build supportive communities for Canadians of all ages

Relocation in Later Years Michael A. Fornaro, 2006 American society will soon be overwhelmed with the number of older adults over the age of sixty five The question is where will they live The answer is many will live in urban neighborhoods by choice or by default American Society has a long history of assisting older people in the form of social security meals for shut ins and medical insurance However Americans have fallen short in one arena that has a profound impact on the quality of day to day living housing Housing that is well designed suitably located and affordable contributes to the ability of an older person to maintain his or her independence and age in place The current housing options available in urban neighborhoods are limited and becoming a crucial factor in determining the physical social and emotional well being of older adults Relocation in Later Years Aging in Place in America's Urban Neighborhoods provides strategies to retain and attract older adults to urban neighborhoods through the development of elderly friendly neighborhoods and age sensitive housing that allows older adults to age in place
