Azure Poems Selections Wesleyan Poetry:

Azure Stéphane Mallarmé, 2015-12-01 During his lifetime Stéphane Mallarmé 1842-1898 was recognized as one of the greatest living French poets. He wrote extensively on themes of reality and his desire to turn away from it, marrying form and content in revolutionary ways that departed drastically from the more tightly controlled French tradition. Despite his status as one of the first modernists, much of Mallarmé's radicalism has been lost in translation. Finally, in this new collection by Blake Bronson Bartlett and Robert Fernandez, the magic and mastery of form and diction so striking in Mallarmé's French verse comes to life in English. Drawing from Poésies (1899), Un coup de dés (A Cast of Dice) and le Livre (the Book), the overarching conceptual work left unfinished at the death of the poet, this collection captures Mallarmé's true linguistic brilliance, bringing the poems into our current history while retaining the music, playfulness, and power of the originals. Hollis Frampton

Michael Zryd, 2023-05-09 Hollis Frampton was an American filmmaker, photographer, and theorist who bridged the experimental film and contemporary art worlds in the 1960s and 1970s. Best known for avant-garde films including Zorns Lemma (1970) and nostalgia (1971), Frampton spent his later years working on the unfinished epic Magellan, a monumental cycle that used the metaphor of Ferdinand Magellan's circumnavigation of the world to rethink the nature and meanings of history, modernity, and cinema. Frampton's career was cut short by cancer at age 48, with his vast ambitions for the project left incomplete. This book is a groundbreaking and comprehensive account of this remarkable figure's work in its totality, from Frampton's earliest films through Magellan. Michael Zryd explores the connections linking Frampton's art and thought to other media forms, histories, and cultural frameworks. He foregrounds Frampton's notion of the infinite cinema, which redefined the parameters of the medium to encompass all forms of moving image and sound media across the past and future of cinematic possibility. Zryd analyzes Frampton's ambivalent relationship with modernism and the Enlightenment, showing how the artist navigated between attraction to radical artistic investigation and awareness of this tradition's implication in colonialism and other oppressive power structures. Shedding new light on Frampton's project of exploring and critiquing how cinema attempts to capture and understand the world, this book also considers his significance for contemporary art.

What the Thunder Said Jed Rasula, 2022-12-06 A rich cultural history of the creation, explosive impact, and enduring influence of T. S. Eliot's modernist masterpiece. When T. S. Eliot published The Waste Land in 1922, it put the thirty-four-year-old author on a path to worldwide fame and the Nobel Prize. But as Jed Rasula writes, The Waste Land is not only a poem; it names an event like a tornado or an earthquake. Its publication was a watershed marking a before and after. It was a poem that unequivocally declared that the ancient art of poetry had become modern. In What the Thunder Said, Rasula tells the story of how The Waste Land changed poetry forever and how this cultural bombshell served as a harbinger of modernist revolution in all the arts, from abstraction in visual art to atonality in music. From its famous opening, "April is the cruellest month, breeding lilacs out of the dead land," to its closing Sanskrit mantra, "Shantih shantih shantih," The Waste Land combined singular imagery experimental technique and dense allusions boldly fulfilling Ezra Pound's injunction to make it new What the Thunder Said traces the origins reception and enduring influence of the poem from its roots in Wagnerism and French Symbolism to the way its strangely beguiling music continues to inspire readers Along the way we learn about Eliot's storied circle including Wyndham Lewis Virginia Woolf and Bertrand Russell and about poets like Mina Loy and Marianne Moore whose innovations have proven as consequential as those of the men of 1914 Filled with fresh insights and unfamiliar anecdotes What the Thunder Said recovers the explosive force of the twentieth century's most influential poem Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art architecture and literature Instead of its evolution this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character No individual experience of light being truer than any other Modernism, Theory, and Responsible Reading Stephen Ross, 2021-08-26 Introducing readers to a new theory of responsible reading this book presents a range of perspectives on the contemporary relationship between modernism and theory Emerging from a collaborative process of comment and response it promotes conversation among disparate views under a shared commitment to responsible reading practices An international range of contributors question the interplay between modernism and theory today and provide new ways of understanding the relationship between the two and the links to emerging concerns such as the Anthropocene decolonization the post human and eco theory Promoting responsible reading as a practice that reads generously and engages constructively even where disagreement is inevitable this book articulates a mode of ethical reading that is fundamental to ongoing debates about strength and weakness paranoia and reparation and critique and affect

Scarecrow Robert Fernandez, 2016-02-23 Taking Dante and other catalogers of failure and ruin Baudelaire Trakl Rimbaud as its guiding lights Scarecrow charts situations of extremity and madness Are you insistent Are you dead Are you guilty Has your name been lifted a vein of earth from earth It also charts the insistence of time's passing and with it the awakening to both new and foreclosed possibilities What will remain for us after the disaster How will we rebuild To whom will we address ourselves and with what voice Also a love poem one of desire and hope Scarecrow aligns a tragic sensibility with a faith in the other and in the redemptive power of forgiveness Within the beauty and strangeness of this work rests an imperative that captures the directive of poetry at its best Present yourself in the full radiance of captivation In its mystery and defiance Robert Fernandez's collection does precisely this An online reader's companion will be available at
