Derber, 2015-11-17 This book shows how we can solve the climate change crisis which is the greatest threat humanity has faced Charles Derber a prominent sociologist and political economist shows that global warming is a symptom of deep pathologies in global capitalism In conversational and passionate writing Derber shows that climate change is capitalism s time bomb certain to explode unless we rapidly transform our economy and create a new green American Dream Derber shows there is hope in the financial meltdown and Great Recession we are now suffering The economic crisis has raised deep questions about Wall Street and the US capitalist model Derber systematically explores the causal links between capitalism and climate change a taboo subject in the U S and opens up new thinking to solve both the economic and climate crises

Supporting Families Experiencing Homelessness Mary E. Haskett, Staci Perlman, Beryl Ann Cowan, 2013-11-08
Homelessness among families with children in the U S is rising rapidly due to the economic downturn Supporting Homeless Families Current Practices and Future Directions aims to raise the standard of services provided to families without homes through practices that are strengths based and culturally competent This book provides a contextual overview of family homelessness An ecological and developmental framework for understanding the implications of homelessness from infancy through adulthood are presented with reference to existing research The book also addresses innovative designs for providing collaboration between and among diverse services that interface with families experiencing homelessness In doing so the importance of providing families with culturally competent services that support them during episodes of homelessness as well as the period of re housing are addressed Examples of empirically proven interventions and best practices are showcased and roadblocks to success and sustainability are discussed

Danzando en la bruma junto al abismo Miguel Baraona, Ernesto Herra Castro, 2018 Ante el actual escenario de crisis global los autores identifican cuatro crisis fundamentales de alcance general el deterioro ambiental la crisis económica la crisis geopolítica o de hegemonía y la crisis de nuestra civilización contemporánea Identifican además el origen común de estos procesos la crisis del sistema capitalista

Canadian Publishers' Directory, 2006 Choice, 2008 Baby Boomers, Generation X and Social Cycles: North American long-waves Edward Cheung, 2007 Baby Boomers Generation X and Social Cycles examines the population growth rates of the United States and Canada from 1789 to the present and shows that population growth rates have not always been uniform throughout history When birth rates increased baby booms were created and when birth rates decreased Generation Xs were born These changes in population growth have created recurring themes in history Each baby boom was followed by a period of increasing activism When birth rates declined society entered a period of decreasing activism In the 1900 s and 1910 s the women's movement was revitalized to rally for voting rights the settlement house movement was established to help the poor and the new music was called Jazz As a result of the baby boom of the 1940 s and 1950 s similar themes re-emerged in the 1960 s and 1970 s The women's movement was revitalized for equal rights the War on Poverty was carried on by governments and the new music was called Rock In the 1920 s there was a great investment boom followed by the collapse of the stock market Social security healthcare and pension plans were the themes of the 1930 s to the 1950 s Millions of people were given entitlements to these benefits for the first time From the 1980 s onward we have again entered a period of rising stock markets with a focus on pensions healthcare and social security Numerous histories and statistics are examined to show how changes in population growth have affected our social political and economic life Generational Gaps in Political Media Use and Civic Engagement Kim Andersen, Jakob Ohme, Camilla Bjarnøe, Mats Joe Bordacconi, Erik Albæk, Claes H De Vreese, 2020-11-29 This book investigates news use patterns among five different generations in a time where digital media create a multi choice media environment The book introduces the EPIG Model Engagement Participation Information Generation to study how different generational cohorts exposure to political information is related to their political engagement and participation The authors build on a multi method framework to determine direct and indirect media effects across generations The unique dataset allows for comparison of effects between legacy and social media use and helps to disentangle the influence on citizens political involvement in nonelection as well as during political campaign times Bringing the newly of age Generation Z into the picture the book presents an in depth understanding of how a changing media environment presents different challenges and opportunities for political involvement of this as well as older generations Bringing the conversation around political engagement and the media up to date for the new generation this book will be of key importance to scholars and students in the areas of media studies communication studies technology political science and political communication
