A Song Of Longing An Ethiopian Journey:

A Song of Longing Kay Kaufman Shelemay, 1994 A Song of Longing Kay Kaufman Shelemay, 1994 A rich descriptive account Shelemay presents extraordinary personal experiences that shaped her research process and make reading this text pleasurable Library Journal Highly recommended to generalists in music as well as to specialists interested in Ethiopia Also makes an excellent case study text for university level courses examining fieldwork issues and conditions Notes Highly recommended for both undergraduate and graduate collections in ethnomusicology anthropology African and Judaic studies Choice Theory and Method in Historical Ethnomusicology Jonathan McCollum, David G. Hebert, 2014-09-11

Historical ethnomusicology is increasingly acknowledged as a significant emerging subfield of ethnomusicology due to the fact that historical research requires a different set of theories and methods than studies of contemporary practices and many historiographic techniques are rapidly transforming as a result of new technologies In 2005 Bruno Nettl observed that the term historical ethnomusicology has begun to appear in programs of conferences and in publications Nettl 2005 274 and as recently as 2012 scholars similarly noted an increasing concern with the writing of musical histories in ethnomusicology Ruskin and Rice 2012 318 Relevant positions recently advanced by other authors include that historical musicologists are all ethnomusicologists now and that all ethnomusicology is historical Stobart 2008 yet we sense that such arguments while useful and theoretically correct may ultimately distract from careful consideration of the kinds of contemporary theories and rigorous methods uniquely suited to historical inquiry in the field of music In Theory and Method in Historical Ethnomusicology editors Jonathan McCollum and David Hebert along with contributors Judah Cohen Chris Goertzen Keith Howard Ann Lucas Daniel Neuman and Diane Thram systematically demonstrate various ways that new approaches to historiography and the related application of new technologies impact the work of ethnomusicologists who seek to meaningfully represent music traditions across barriers of both time and space Contributors specializing in historical musics of Armenia Iran India Japan southern Africa American Jews and southern fiddling traditions of the United States describe the opening of new theoretical approaches and methodologies for research on global music history In the Foreword Keith Howard offers his perspective on historical ethnomusicology and the importance of reconsidering theories and methods applicable to this field for the enhancement of musical understandings in the present and future The Study of

Ethnomusicology Bruno Nettl, 2010-10-01 The first edition of this book The Study of Ethnomusicology Twenty Nine Issues and Concepts has become a classic in the field This revised edition written twenty two years after the original continues the tradition of providing engagingly written analysis that offers the most comprehensive discussion of the field available anywhere This book looks at the field of ethnomusicology defined as the study of the world's musics from a comparative perspective and the study of all music from an anthropological perspective as a field of research Nettl selects thirty one concepts and issues that have been the subjects of continuing debate by ethnomusicologists and he adds four entirely new chapters and thoroughly updates the text to reflect new developments and concerns in the field Each chapter looks at its subject historically and goes on to make its points with case studies many taken from Nettl's own field experience Drawing extensively on his field research in the Middle East Western urban settings and North American Indian societies as well as on a critical survey of the available literature Nettl advances our understanding of both the diversity and universality of the world's music This revised edition's four new chapters deal with the doing and writing of musical ethnography the scholarly study of instruments aspects of women's music and women in music and the ethnomusicologist's study of his or her own culture

East, North Africa and Central Asia Laudan Nooshin, 2016-04-29 What is it about the history geographical position and cultures of the Middle East North Africa and Central Asia that has made music such a potent and powerful agent This volume presents the first direct look at the complex relationship between music and power across a range of musical genres and countries Discourses of power in the region centre on some of the most contested social issues most notably in relation to nationhood gender and religion Individual chapters examine the ways in which music serves as a forum for playing out issues of power ideology resistance and subversion How does music become a space for promoting or conversely resisting or subverting particular ideologies or positions of authority How does it accrue symbolic power in ways that are very particular perhaps unique And how does music become a site of social control or alternatively a vehicle for agency and empowerment at times overt and at others highly subtle What is it about music that facilitates and sometimes disrupts the exercise and flows of power Who controls such flows how and for what purposes In asking such questions in the context of countries such as Afghanistan Egypt Iran Tunisia and Tajikistan the book draws on a wide range of relevant theoretical and critical ideas and many disciplines including ethnomusicology anthropology sociology politics Middle Eastern studies globalization studies gender studies and cultural and media studies The countries and areas explored share a great deal in historical and cultural terms including a legacy of colonial and neo colonial encounters and predominantly Judeo Muslim religious traditions It is hoped that the volume will contribute ultimately to a richer understanding of the role that music plays in these societies
