

HAND BLASTERS

The hand blaster is the standard weapon of troops throughout The Federation. A high energy plasma discharge weapon, it has considerable destructive power against both inert and live targets. Power comes from a cartridge inserted into the rear of the barrel. The cartridge provides power for about 30 discharges. Power output is not controllable without considerable modification to the design, though a stun version has been produced. Considerable heat is produced on discharge, resulting in the large array of heat radiators around the barrel.

PISTOL

The pistol is standard issue to all Federation Officers. Basically a scaled down version of the hand blaster, its range is limited compared to its larger brother and the power output reduced, resulting in about the same discharge capacity from the smaller cartridge utilised.
