Higher Education Transitions Eva Kyndt,Vincent Donche,Keith Trigwell,Sari Lindblom-Ylänne,2017-05-18 In the current era where lifelong learning is brought to the fore higher education can no longer be regarded as an isolated trajectory within one s educational career as many students face substantial challenges in crafting their professional future More specifically the transition from school to higher education and continuing to the labour market are often a difficult hurdles for many students Almost half of students do not succeed in the first year and often withdraw from education students are faced with a variety of contexts and may choose to study in a different international context and they are then confronted with structural barriers in finding a high quality job as evidenced by increasing levels of youth unemployment and underemployment Higher Education Transitions aims to deepen our understanding of the transitions taking place when students enter progress and leave higher education to enter the labour market Drawing on an international team of contributors this guide includes three conceptual and fifteen empirical studies which include a range of quantitative qualitative cross sectional and longitudinal studies Divided into three sections to reflect each important transition phase topics include transitions from secondary to higher education transitions within higher education transitions from higher education to the labour market By considering transitions across different phases as a broad and interrelated process this guide will be essential reading for higher education researchers policy stakeholders and all those interested in the transitions into higher education and the labour market

Digital Representations of Student Performance for Assessment P. John Williams,C. Paul Newhouse,2013-10-30 It was the belief that assessment is the driving force of curriculum that motivated the authors of this monograph to embark on a program of research and development into the use of digital technologies to support more authentic forms of assessment They perceived that in responding to the educational needs of children in the 21st Century curriculum needed to become more relevant and engaging but that change was unlikely without commensurate change in methods and forms of assessment This was particularly true for the high stakes assessment typically conducted at the conclusion of schooling as this tended to become the focus of the implemented curriculum throughout the years of school Therefore the authors chose to focus on this area of assessment with the understanding that this would inform assessment policy and practices generally in schools This book provides a conceptual framework and outlines a project in which digital methods of representing students performance were developed and tested in the subject areas of Applied Information Technology Engineering Italian and Physical Education The methodology and data collection processes are discussed and the data is analysed providing the basis for conclusions and recommendations
