A Reference Grammar of Modern Standard Arabic Karin C. Ryding, 2005-08-25 A Reference Grammar of Modern Standard Arabic is a comprehensive handbook on the structure of Arabic Keeping technical terminology to a minimum it provides a detailed yet accessible overview of Modern Standard Arabic in which the essential aspects of its phonology morphology and syntax can be readily looked up and understood Accompanied by extensive carefully chosen examples it will prove invaluable as a practical guide for supporting students textbooks classroom work or self study and will also be a useful resource for scholars and professionals wishing to develop an understanding of the key features of the language Grammar notes are numbered for ease of reference and a section is included on how to use an Arabic dictionary as well as helpful glossaries of Arabic and English linguistic terms and a useful bibliography Clearly structured and systematically organised this book is set to become the standard guide to the grammar of contemporary Arabic

The Arabic Verb Warwick Danks, 2011 The Arabic verbal system is for most grammarians the keystone of the language Notable for the regularity of its patterns it presents the linguist with an unparalleled opportunity to explore the Saussurean notion of the indivisible sign form and meaning Whilst Arabic forms are well documented the elucidation of the corresponding meanings has proved more challenging Beginning with an examination of the verbal morphology of Modern Standard Arabic including an evaluation of the significance of the consonantal root this volume then concentrates on establishing the function of the vowel lengthening verbal patterns III and VI It explores issues of mutuality and reciprocity valency and transitivity ultimately focusing on atelic lexical aspect as the unified meaning of these patterns This study is rich in data and relies extensively upon contemporary examples with transliteration and translation to illustrate its arguments adopting an empirical structuralist approach which is aimed both at general linguists and at specialist Arabists
