Trapped in Thought Eric P. Levy, 2007-04-17 Eric P Levy's book investigates the mentality or attitude of cognitive apprehension expressed in Beckettian texts Primary areas of concern include how the Beckettian attitude began what concepts it invents or transforms to sustain its mode of thought how the mentality wards off factors which would refute or heal it and most paradoxical of all why this mentality ultimately reduces the mind to an estranged source of thought continuously repudiated by its own awareness The study uncovers the strategies by which experience is evacuated of all content but that consistent with the attitude registering it

Adaptation in Young Adult Novels Dana E. Lawrence, Amy L. Montz, 2020-09-03 Adaptation in

Young Adult Novels argues that adapting classic and canonical literature and historical places engages young adult readers with their cultural past and encourages them to see how that past can be rewritten. The textual afterlives of classic texts raise questions for new readers: What can be changed? What benefits from change? How can you too be agents of change? The contributors to this volume draw on a wide range of contemporary novels from Rick Riordan's Percy Jackson series and Megan Shepherd's Madman's Daughter trilogy to Jesmyn Ward's Salvage the Bones adapted from mythology, fairy tales, historical places and the literary classics of Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Jane Austen and F. Scott Fitzgerald among others. Unpacking the new perspectives and critiques of gender, sexuality and the cultural values of adolescents inherent to each adaptation, the essays in this volume make the case that literary adaptations are just as valuable as original works and demonstrate how the texts studied empower young readers to become more culturally, historically and socially aware through the lens of literary diversity.

A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse, 1990-01-01. This ambitious undertaking is designed to acquaint students, teachers and researchers with reference sources in any branch of English studies which Marcuse defines as all those subjects and lines of critical and scholarly inquiry presently pursued by members of university departments of English language and literature. Within each of 24 major sections, Marcuse lists and annotates bibliographies, guides, reviews of research, encyclopedias, dictionaries, journals and reference histories. The annotations and various indexes are models of clarity and usefulness and cross references are liberally supplied where appropriate. Although cost-conscious librarians will probably consider the several other excellent literary bibliographies in print such as James L. Harner's Literary Research Guide, Modern Language Assn of America, 1989, larger academic libraries will want Marcuse's volume. Jack Bales, Mary Washington Coll Lib, Fredericksburg, Va. Library Journal.

The Study of Religions in Ireland Brendan McNamara, Hazel O'Brien, 2022-06-02. This book provides a comprehensive and field-defining examination of the study of religions in Ireland. By bringing together some of the foremost experts on religions in an Irish context, it critically traces the development of an important field of study and evaluates the thematic threads that have emerged as significant. It thereby offers an assessment of contemporary religions in Ireland and their relationships to society, culture, economics, politics and the State. Contributors make connections between topics as diverse as Ireland's Revolutionary Period, the formation of the Irish State, the decline of Catholicism, the rise of migrant religions and New Religious Movements, and the effects of secularisation on religions and society. This book emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of the study of religions whilst illustrating the coherent themes that have shaped the development of the field in Ireland, making it unique.
