Allahs Bomb The Islamic Quest For Nuclear Weapons:

Allah's Bomb Al J. Venter, 2007 America, Britain and Pakistan's Nuclear Weapons Programme, 1974-1980

Malcolm M. Craig, 2017-06-26 This book analyses US and UK efforts to shut down Pakistan's nuclear programme in the 1970s between the catalytic Indian nuclear test of May 1974 and the decline of sustained non proliferation activity from mid 1979 onwards. It is a tale of cooperation between Washington and London but also a story of divisions and disputes. The brutal economic realities of the decade, globalisation and wider geopolitical challenges all complicated this relationship. Policy and action were also affected by changes elsewhere in the world. Iran's 1979 revolution brought a new form of political Islamic radicalism to prominence. The fears engendered by the Ayatollah and his followers coupled to the blustering rhetoric of Pakistani leaders gave rise to the Islamic bomb, a nuclear weapon supposedly created by Pakistan to be shared amongst the Muslim ummah. This study thus combines cultural, diplomatic, economic and political history to offer a rigorous, deeply researched account of a critical moment in nuclear history.

Twilight of the Bombs Richard Rhodes, 2011-09-06 The final volume in Richard Rhodes's prizewinning history of nuclear weapons offers the first comprehensive narrative of the challenges faced in the post Cold War age. The past twenty years have transformed our relationship with nuclear weapons drastically. With extraordinary depth of knowledge and understanding, Richard Rhodes makes clear how the five original nuclear powers, Russia, Great Britain, France, China, and especially the United States, have struggled with new realities. He reveals the real reasons George W. Bush chose to fight a second war in Iraq, assesses the emerging threat of nuclear terrorism, and offers advice on how our complicated relationships with North Korea and South Asia should evolve. Finally, he imagines what a post nuclear world might look like as only he can.

A Global History of the Nuclear Arms Race Richard Dean Burns, Joseph M. Siracusa, 2013-04-23 Written by two preeminent authors in the field, this book provides an accessible global narrative of the nuclear arms race since 1945 that focuses on the roles of key scientists, military chiefs, and political leaders. The first book of its kind to provide a global perspective of the arms race, this two volume work connects episodes worldwide involving nuclear weapons in a comprehensive narrative fashion. Beginning with a discussion of the scientific research of the 1930s and 1940s and the Hiroshima decision, the authors focus on five basic themes: political dimensions, technological developments, military and diplomatic strategies, and impact. The history of the international nuclear arms race is examined within the context of four historical eras: America's nuclear monopoly, America's nuclear superiority, superpower parity, and the post Cold War era. Information about the historical development of the independent deterrence of Britain, France, and China, as well as the piecemeal deterrence of newcomers Israel, India, Pakistan, and North Korea, is also included, as is coverage of the efforts aimed at the international control of nuclear weapons and the diplomatic architecture that underpins the global nuclear non proliferation regime.

The Pakistan Cauldron James P. Farwell, 2011-10-01 The killing of Osama bin Laden spotlighted Pakistan's unpredictable political dynamics, which are often driven by conspiracy theory, paranoia, and a sense of betrayal In Pakistan the late prime minister Benazir Bhutto famously declared there is always the story behind the story In The Pakistan Cauldron James P Farwell explains what makes Pakistani politics tick Farwell has advised the Department of Defense on terrorism sovereignty and the political issues in the Middle East Africa and Pakistan Here he reveals how key Pakistani political players have inconsistently employed the principles of strategic communication to advance their agendas and undercut their enemies Pakistan is an enigma to many Only by understanding the complex forces that shape Pakistani leaders can we uncover their shifting political agendas and how they affect America and the West Farwell explains how and why former president Pervez Musharraf clamped down on nuclear scientist A Q Kahn and isolated him He assesses Benazir Bhutto s unique legacy and analyzes how Musharraf handled the aftermath of her assassination He explains Pakistan s current instability and demonstrates how the country s emotional reaction to bin Laden s death is best understood as the outcome of long standing political dynamics The Pakistan Cauldron is for anyone who needs to know why Pakistan continues to pose increasingly difficult challenges for the United States and the West Takka Takka Bom Bom Al J. Venter, 2023-12-07 The world s oldest still active war correspondent shares the real stories behind half a century of headlines from the front lines The world s oldest still active war correspondent Al J Venter has reported from the front lines for well over half a century witnessing the horrors humanity visits upon itself in twenty five conflict zones across Africa the Middle East and Central Asia In this memoir Venter masterfully recounts his experiences sharing the real stories behind the headlines and the sharp lessons he learned that enabled him to survive his countless exploits ranging from exposing a major KGB operative in Rhodesia entirely by accident and accompanying an Israeli force led by Ariel Sharon into Beirut to gun running into the United States Nuclear Politics in Asia Marzieh Kouhi Esfahani, Ariabarzan Mohammadi, 2017-09-01 Asia has the world s highest concentration of nuclear weapons and the most significant recent developments related to nuclear proliferation as well as the world s most critical conflicts and considerable political instability The containment and prevention of nuclear proliferation especially in Asia continues to be a grave concern for the international community This book provides a comprehensive overview of the state of nuclear arsenals nuclear ambitions and nuclear threats across different parts of Asia It covers the Middle East including Israel China India Pakistan and their confrontation as well as North Korea It discusses the conventional warfare risks risks from non state armed groups and examines the attempts to limit and control nuclear weapons both international initiatives and American diplomacy and interventions The book concludes by assessing the possibility of nuclear revival the potential outcomes of international approaches to nuclear disarmament and the efficacy of coercive diplomacy in containing nuclear proliferation Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion Sana Rahim, 2024 Developed over six chapters Pakistan s Nuclear Exclusion provides an account of how orientalism is a lived experience of post colonial racism injustice and inequality amongst members of the nuclear community in Pakistan The account is produced through interviews with members of the community consisting of students academics and physicists in Pakistan Rahim offers unique insights into how Pakistan's nuclear community is not only perceived and represented but also how it seeks to operate in a wider nuclear community dominated by Western nuclear powers. The provision of such highly contextualised insights is enabled by the book setting out to both a) provide analytical space for and b) give voice to how orientalism is experienced in the everyday of their lives. Consequently the work provides 1) an analysis of how dominant discourses of nuclear management and their pictures of reason are exclusionary 2) an analysis of the core features of orientalism as they pertain to Pakistan's nuclear community and 3) empirical findings which produce categories of the experience of orientalism into areas of the everyday exclusion making a career Islamophobia technology denial and self reliance Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion is enormously valuable to the research community as well as extremely well conceived and researched. In addition much of the methodology chapter offers a level of sophistication and self reflection that translates well in the interview material and its subsequent analysis.

Gunship Ace Al J. Venter, 2012-01-19 Spotlights the career of a fascinating modern warrior while also shedding light on some of the conflicts that have raged throughout the world. Tucson Citizen. A former South African Air Force pilot who saw action throughout the region from the 1970s on Neall Ellis is the best known mercenary combat aviator alive. Apart from flying Alouette helicopter gunships in Angola he fought in the Balkan war for the Islamic forces, tried to resuscitate Mobutu's ailing air force during his final days ruling the Congo, flew Mi 8s for Executive Outcomes and piloted an Mi 8 fondly dubbed Bokkie for Colonel Tim Spicer in Sierra Leone. Finally with a pair of aging Mi 24 Hinds Ellis ran the Air Wing out of Aberdeen Barracks in the war against Sankoh's vicious RUF rebels. As a civilian contractor Ellis has also flown helicopter support missions in Afghanistan where he reckons he had more close shaves than in his entire previous four decades. From single handedly turning the enemy back from the gates of Freetown to helping rescue eleven British soldiers who'd been taken hostage Ellis's many missions earned him a price on his head with reports of a million dollar dead or alive reward. This book describes the full career of this storied aerial warrior from the bush and jungles of Africa to the forests of the Balkans and the merciless mountains of Afghanistan. Along the way the reader encounters a multiethnic array of enemies ranging from ideological to cold blooded to pure evil as well as examples of incredible heroism for hire.
