Alarms And Diversions The American Mind Through American Magazines 1900 1914:

Alarms and Diversions Maxwell H. Bloomfield, 1967 Emma Goldman, Vol. 2 Emma Goldman, 2008-07-16 Emma Goldman A Documentary History of the American Years reconstructs the life of Emma Goldman through significant texts and documents These volumes collect personal letters lecture notes newspaper articles court transcripts government surveillance reports and numerous other documents many of which appear here in English for the first time Supplemented with thorough annotations multiple appendixes and detailed chronologies the texts bring to life the memory of this singular pivotal figure in American and European radical history Volume 2 Making Speech Free 1902 1909 extends many of the themes introduced in the previous volume including Goldman s evolving attitudes toward political violence and social reform intensified now by documentary accounts of the fomenting revolution in Russia and the legal opposition toward anarchism and labor organizing in the United States Always an impassioned defender of free expression Goldman s launch of her magazine Mother Earth in 1906 signaled a desire to bring radical thought into wider circulation and its pages brought together modern literary and cultural ideas with a radical social agenda quickly becoming a platform for her feminist critique among her many other challenges to the status quo With abundant examples from her writings and speeches this volume details Goldman s emergence as one of American history s most fiercely outspoken opponents of hypocrisy and pretension in politics and public life Making Speech Free, 1902-1909 Emma Goldman, Candace Falk, Jessica M. Moran, 2003 This second of a three volume set documenting Emma Goldman s life and work in the United States covers the years from 1902 through the end of 1909 from the 1901 assassination of President McKinley by a Polish American anarchist through Goldman s participation in a wider political sphere that began with her launch of the anarchist magazine Mother Earth Harvard Guide to American History Frank Freidel, Frank Burt Freidel, Richard K. Showman, 1974 Editions for 1954 and 1967 by O Handlin and others

Magazines for the Millions Helen Damon-Moore, 1994-08-12 Argues that the two popular women s magazines were pivotal in the combining of gender and commercialism at the turn of the century and that publishers and advertisers conspired to create both a gendered commercial discourse and a commercial gender discourse for both men and women Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Form and History in American Literary Naturalism June Howard, 2017-03-01 Examining the novels of Frank Norris Theodore Dreiser Jack London and other writers June Howard presents a study of American literary naturalism as a genre Naturalism she states is a way of imagining the world and the relation of the self to the world a way of making sense and making narrative out of the comforts and discomforts of its historical moment Howard believes that naturalism accomodates the sense of perilousness uncertainty and disorder that many Americans felt in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries She argues for a redefinition of the form which allows it to be seen as an immanent ideology responding to a specific historical situation Working both from accepted definitions of naturalism and from close analysis of the literary texts themselves Howard consructs a new description of the genre in terms of its thematic antinomies patterns of characterization and narrative strategies She defines a range of historical and cultural reference for the ideas and images of American naturalism and suggests that the form has affinities with such contemporary ideologies as political progressivism and criminal anthropology In the process she demonstrates that genre criticism and historical analysis can be combined to create a powerful method for writing literary history Throughout Howard s study the concept of genre is used not as a prescriptive straitjacket but as a category allowing the perception of significant similarities and differences among literary works and the coordination of textual analysis with the history of literary and social forces For Howard naturalism is a dynamic solution to the problem of generating narrative from the particular historical and cultural materials available to the authors Originally published in 1985 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Contesting Cultural Rhetorics Margaret J. Marshall, 2025-10-01 Contesting Cultural Rhetorics is a groundbreaking and original study that demonstrates how education is viewed as a contested term and a set of contested practices in American culture because it is inevitably linked to highly contested value laden terms An examination of the public discourse of education not only reveals the ideologies and conceptions embedded in educative acts and institutions but also provides a means of examining how education itself functions in American culture as a site of contest between ideologies values and the constitution of individual and nation Margaret J Marshall s analysis employs a range of contemporary theorists from Bakhtin to Foucault and draws on a number of disciplinary perspectives including law history and ethnography where scholars have been examining discursive practices and where rhetoric is understood to be a means of examining cultural conceptions and embedded ideologies Through these lenses she examines four influential and popular texts of the 1890s that serve to illuminate current public debates on education Joseph Mayer Rice s articles in Forum a well respected magazine Matthew Arnold s introduction to a government report W E B Du Bois s A Negro Schoolmaster in the New South and Jane Addams s A Function of the Social Settlement Neither a history of education nor a typical literary analysis of the texts in question this book considers the rhetorical stance of authors the constitution of audience and subject and the use of references and narratives as devices of authority Taken together these texts reveal the complicated public discussion of education in the 1890s a period of transformation in culture schooling and the organization of knowledge Moreover they reveal the rhetorical structure of many of the questions Americans ask about education today who should be educated by whom for what purposes using what methods or materials What of the past should we pass on to the future and how Contesting Cultural Rhetorics will be useful to readers interested in the history of education and nineteenth century popular culture as well as those involved in current debates on education and public policy
