

Future of Governments, Politics and Democracy

Tamás Landesz

Abstract

This chapter discusses the decline of democracy and trust in political institutions worldwide, as well as the role of technology and AI in improving infrastructure, public services and policymaking. The Economist Intelligence Unit's Democracy Index has measured the quality of political processes, civil liberties, the functioning of government, public participation and political culture every year since 2006, providing a ranking of nearly every country in the world on a 10-point scale. In 2020, the global average score fell to its lowest point since 2006, with the pandemic contributing to this decline. The Edelman Trust Barometer shows that people have fears about the future and how it may impact them, leading to a lack of trust in governmental institutions, businesses, NGOs and media. The European Union launched a project to explore the future of government beyond 2030, combining citizen engagement, foresight and design. Four scenarios emerged: DIY Democracy, Private Algocracy, Super Collaborative Government and Over Regulatocracy. The chapter concludes with predictions for democracy's future in the new digital age and how technology can both weaken and strengthen democracy.

Alberta's Local Governments Politics And Democracy:

Alberta's Local Governments: Politics and Democracy Jack Masson, Edward C. LeSage, 1994 During the last decade Alberta municipalities have endured hardships they have not faced since the Great Depression Changes in the province's political structures appear to have been made primarily to transfer a greater share of the costs of local government to the municipalities yet surprisingly few municipal politicians have resisted the province's financial policies Teaching the World Merrill Distad, University of Alberta. Office of the Vice-President (Research and External Affairs), 1996-04 This book catalogues an exhibition of textbooks by authors from the University of Alberta Each finished textbook contains its own story of challenges and victories And each has its own power as a record of knowledge a teaching tool and an object of permanence and beauty Government and Politics in Alberta Allan Tupper, Roger Gibbins, 1992 Alberta's politics are changing in response to powerful economic social and political forces The contributors focus on developments since the election of the Progressive Conservatives in 1971 Governing Ourselves? Mary Louise McAllister, 2011-11-01 Popular rhetoric suggests that the twenty first century has ushered in an era of homogeneity Urbanization globalization amalgamation media conglomeration and technological convergence have become familiar terms Given the pressures of integration and assimilation how are people within communities able to make decisions about their own environment whether individually or collectively To what extent can they govern themselves Governing Ourselves explores issues of influence and power within local institutions and decision making processes using numerous illustrations from municipalities across Canada It shows how communities large and small from Toronto to Iqaluit have distinctive political cultures and therefore respond differently to changing global and domestic environments Case studies of Prince George Sherbrooke Saint John and Kitchener Waterloo are used to illuminate historical and contemporary challenges to local governance This stimulating book covers traditional topics such as government structures and institutions and intergovernmental relations It also reaches more broadly into areas of inquiry relevant to geography urban planning environmental studies public administration sociology and Canadian studies City Politics, Canada James Lightbody, 2006-01-01 City Politics Canada will both irritate and please but it should be read it raises all the important questions about urban governance in Canada Caroline Andrew Centre on Governance University of Ottawa Municipal Boundary Battles Sandeep Agrawal, 2024-07-18 Municipal Boundary Battles explores the motivations land use effects and financial implications of municipal boundary adjustments across Canada focusing mainly on annexations and amalgamations the most frequent means to adjust boundaries and reform local governments in this country The authors uncover hidden motivations untangle behind the scenes political machinations and document the ensuing boundary battles with a focus on mid size cities and small towns rather than major Canadian metropolitan areas Through empirical evidence case studies and examples among several provinces the collection helps develop generalizations and inform best practices for municipal boundary adjustments and reform The volume aims to study this phenomenon to explain how the esoteric aspects of boundary adjustments work in more practical applications offering political scientists geographers municipal officials and planning practitioners fresh perspectives that contradict much of the prevailing understanding of boundary adjustments Contributors Sandeep Agrawal Cody Gretzinger John Heseltine John Meligrana Jordan Rea Amrita Singh Jon Taylor Zack Taylor Afterword by Andrew Sancton Governing Metropolitan Regions in the 21st Century Donald Phares,2015-01-28 While government provides the structure of public leadership governance is the art of public leadership This timely book examines current trends in metropolitan governance issues It analyzes specific cases from thirteen major metropolitan regions in the United States Canada and Mexico all woven together by an overall framework established in the first three chapters The distinguished contributors address such governance issues as city county consolidation local federal coordination annexation and special districting and private contracting with special attention to lessons learned from both successes and failures As urban governance innovations have clearly outpaced urban government structures in recent years the topics covered here are especially relevant We're Going to Run This City Stefan Epp-Koop,2015-09-11 Stefan Epp Koop s We re Going to Run This City Winnipeg s Political Left After the General Strike explores the dynamic political movement that came out of the largest labour protest in Canadian history and the ramifications for Winnipeg throughout the 1920s and 1930s Few have studied the political Left at the municipal level even though it is at this grassroots level that many people participate in political activity Winnipeg was a deeply divided city On one side the conservative political descendants of the General Strike s Citizen s Committee of 1000 advocated for minimal government and low taxes On the other side were the Independent Labour Party and the Communist Party of Canada two parties rooted in the city s working class though often in conflict with each other The political strength of the Left would ebb and flow throughout the 1920s and 1930s but peaked in the mid 1930s when the ILP s John Queen became mayor and the two parties on the Left combined to hold a majority of council seats Astonishingly Winnipeg was governed by a mayor who had served jail time for his role in the General Strike Leaders in the Shadows David Siegel,2015-01-01 In most municipalities across Canada the top public servant is the chief administrative officer CAO or city manager Compared to elected politicians such as the mayor and the council the work of a CAO is often overlooked and not well understood In Leaders in the Shadows David Siegel brings the CAO into the limelight examining the leadership qualities of effective municipal managers Using the examples of five exceptional CAOs who have worked in municipalities of varying sizes across Canada Siegel identifies the leadership traits skills and behaviours which have made them successful Interweaving the stories of his subjects with insights drawn from leadership theory Siegel offers an engrossing account of how CAOs must lead up down and out in order to succeed Offering well rounded accounts of the challenges and opportunities faced by public servants at the municipal level Leaders in the Shadows is a valuable resource for academics and practitioners alike The State of the System Paul W. Bennett,2020-09-23 Over the last fifty years Canada s public schools have been absorbed into a modern education system that functions much like Max Weber's infamous iron cage. Crying out for democratic school level reform, the system is now a centralized bureaucratic fortress that every year becomes softer on standards for students, less accessible to parents, further out of touch with communities and surprisingly unresponsive to classroom teachers. Exploring the nature of the Canadian education order in all its dimensions, The State of the System explains how public schools came to be so bureaucratic, confronts the critical issues facing kindergarten to grade 12 public schools in all ten provinces and addresses the need for systemic reform. Going beyond a diagnosis of the stresses, strains and ills present in the system, Paul Bennett proposes a bold plan to re-engineer schools on a more human scale as the first step in truly reforming public education. In place of school consolidation and managerialism, one size fits all uniformity, limited school choice and the success for all curriculum, Bennett advocates for a new set of priorities: decentralize school governance, deprogram education ministries and school districts, listen to parents and teachers and revitalize local education democracy. Tackling the thorny issues besetting contemporary school systems in Canada, The State of the System issues a clarion call for more responsive, engaged and accountable public schools.
