The British Library, 1849 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1986 to 1987 British Library, 1988 British Books, 1913 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1913 Three Men Went to Row John Llewellyn, 2018-10-31 Ninety years after the death of its author Jerome K Jerome's ever popular Three Men in a Boat is taken down from the shelf and the dust blown from its pages to reveal surprising facts and stories hidden in its familiar text Catalogue of Additions to the Manuscripts in the British Museum British Library. Dept. of Manuscripts, 1901 Globalization of Knowledge in the Post-Antique Mediterranean, 700-1500 Sonja Brentjes, Jürgen Renn, 2016-05-05 The contributions to this volume enter into a dialogue about the routes, modes and institutions that transferred and transformed knowledge across the late antique Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf. Each contribution not only presents a different case study but also investigates a different type of question ranging from how history writing drew on cross-culturally constructed stories and shared sets of skills and values to how an ancient warlord was transformed into the iconic hero of a newly created monotheistic religion. Between these two poles the emergence of a new knowledge-related but market-based profession in Baghdad is discussed alongside the long-distance transfer of texts, doctrines and values within a religious minority community from the shores of the Caspian Sea to the mountains of the southern Arabian Peninsula. The authors also investigate the outsourcing of military units and skills across religious and political boundaries, the construction of cross-cultural knowledge of the balance through networks of scholars, patrons, merchants and craftsmen as well as differences in linguistic and pharmaceutical practices in mixed cultural environments for shared corpora of texts, drugs and plants From Earth to Art, 2022-06-08 From Earth to Art presents papers from the Early Medieval Plant Studies symposium, a meeting designed to explore the various disciplines which could help to elucidate the plant names of Anglo-Saxon England, many of which are not understood. The range of disciplines represented includes landscape history, place name studies, botany, archaeology, art history, Old English literature, the history of food and of medicine, and linguistic approaches such as semantics and morphology. This collection represents a first experimental step in the work of the Anglo-Saxon Plant Name Survey (ASPNS), a multidisciplinary research project based in the University of Glasgow. ASPNS is dedicated to collecting and reviewing for the first time the total multidisciplinary evidence for each plant name and establishing new or improved identifications. The results will have implications for various historical studies such as agriculture, pharmacology, nutrition, climate, dialect and more. Included in the book is the first ASPNS word study concerned with the Old English word spe, the ancestor of aspen, and it is shown that this tree name had a broader meaning than has hitherto been suspected. This book will be of interest to historians, botanists, archaeologists, linguists, geographers, gardeners, herbalists, conservationists and anyone interested in the crucial role of plants in history Rover Cars 1945 to 2005 James Taylor, This comprehensive pictorial overview of Rover cars covers 1945-2005 models.
