Andrei Tarkovsky Lyudmila Boyadzhieva, 2018-01-01 Andrei Tarkovsky died in a Paris hospital in 1986 aged just 54 An internationally acclaimed icon of the film industry the legacy Tarkovsky left for his fans included Andrei Rublev Stalker Nostalgia and a host of other brilliant works In the Soviet Union however Tarkovsky was a persona non grata Longing to be accepted in his homeland Tarkovsky distanced himself from all forms of political and social engagement yet endured one fiasco after another in his relations with the Soviet regime The Soviet authorities regarded the law-abiding ideologically moderate Tarkovsky as an outsider and a nuisance due to his impenetrable personal nature The documentary novel A Life on the Cross provides a unique insight into the life of Andrey Tarkovsky the infamous film director and a man whose life was by no means free of unedifying behaviour and errors of judgement Lyudmila Boyadzhieva sets out to reveal his innate talent and explain why the cost of such talent can sometimes be life itself Andrei Tarkovsky Sean Martin, 2021-09-21 Andrei

Tarkovsky is the most celebrated Russian filmmaker since Eisenstein and one of the most important directors to have emerged during the 1960s and 70s Although he made only seven features each one was a major landmark in cinema the most well known of them being the mediaeval epic Andrei Rublev widely regarded as one of the greatest films of all time and the autobiographical Mirror set during the Russia of Stalin's purges in the 1930s and the years of stagnation under Brezhnev Both films landed Tarkovsky in considerable trouble with the authorities and he gained a reputation for being a tortured and ultimately martyred filmmaker Despite the harshness of the conditions under which he worked Tarkovsky built up a remarkable body of work He burst upon the international scene in 1962 with his debut feature Ivan's Childhood which won the Golden Lion at Venice and immediately established him as a major filmmaker During the 1970s he made two classic ventures into science fiction Solaris regarded at the time as being the Soviet reply to Kubrick's 2001 A Space Odyssey and later remade by Steven Soderbergh and Stalker which was thought to have predicted the Chernobyl disaster Harassed at home Tarkovsky went into exile and made his last two films in the West where he also published his classic work of film and artistic theory Sculpting in Time Since his death in Paris in 1986 his reputation continued and continues to grow Sean Martin considers the whole of Tarkovsky's oeuvre from the classic student film The Steamroller and the Violin across the full length films to the later stage works and Tarkovsky's writings paintings and photographs Martin also seeks to demystify Tarkovsky as a difficult director whilst also celebrating his radical aesthetic of long takes and tracking shots which Tarkovsky was to dub imprinted or sculpted time and to make a case for Tarkovsky's position not just as an important filmmaker but also as an artist who speaks directly about the most important spiritual issues of our time

Solaris, directed by Andrei Tarkovsky
Nicolae Sfetcu, 2019-05-07 About the main psychological and philosophical aspects detached from the film Solaris directed by Andrei Tarkovski as well as the cinema techniques used by the director to convey his messages to the spectator In the Introduction I briefly present the relevant elements of Tarkovski's biography and an overview of Stanislaw Lem's Solaris novel and the film Solaris directed by Andrei Tarkovsky In Cinema Technique I talk about the specific rhythm of the scenes the radical movement triggered by Tarkovsky in modern cinema the role of symbolic and iconic elements and affinities with the fantastic area of Russian literature In Psychological Aspects I analyze the issue of communication in a human society of the future considered by Tarkovsky as rigid the obsession of the house and the personal evolution of Kris Hari and the relationships between them In Philosophical Aspects the film is analyzed through the philosophy of the mind Cartesian dualism reductionism and functionalism the problem of personal identity the theory of heterotopic spaces developed by Michel Foucault and the semantic interpretations that can be deduced from the film It also analyzes the issue of personal identity through Locke's philosophy Conclusions show the general ideas of this essay namely that Man's attempts to classify and maintain forms of interaction with unknown entities will always be condemned to failure and will reflect a major mistake in the panoptic world in which we live In this framework of analysis of the philosophy of mind functionalism seems to be the most intuitive Solaris is however a movie that begins as a search for answers and comes to provide these answers with a whole range of different questions
