Artistic Truth Aesthetics Discourse And Imaginative Disclosure:

Artistic Truth Lambert Zuidervart, 2004-10-18 It is unfashionable to talk about artistic truth Yet the issues traditionally addressed under that term have not disappeared Indeed questions concerning the role of the artist in society the relationship between art and knowledge and the validity of cultural interpretation have intensified Lambert Zuidervart challenges intellectual fashions He proposes a new critical hermeneutics of artistic truth that engages with both analytic and continental philosophies and illuminates the contemporary cultural scene People turn to the arts as a way of finding orientation in their lives communities and institutions But philosophers hamstrung by their own theories of truth have been unsuccessful in accounting for this common feature in our lives This book portrays artistic truth as a process of imaginative disclosure in which expectations of authenticity significance and integrity prevail Understood in this way truth becomes central to the aesthetic and social value of the arts

Social Domains of Truth Lambert Zuidervart, 2023-03-10 Truth is in trouble In response this book presents a new conception of truth It recognizes that prominent philosophers have questioned whether the idea of truth is important Some have asked why we even need it Their questions reinforce broader trends in Western society where many wonder whether or why we should pursue truth Indeed some pundits say we have become a post truth society Yet there are good reasons not to embrace the cultural Zeitgeist or go with the philosophical flow reasons to regard truth as a substantive and socially significant idea This book explains why First it argues that propositional truth is only one kind of truth an important kind but not all important Then it shows how propositional truth belongs to the more comprehensive process of truth as a whole This process is a dynamic correlation between human fidelity to societal principles and a life giving disclosure of society The correlation comes to expression in distinct social domains of truth where either propositional or nonpropositional truth is primary The final chapters lay out five such domains science politics art religion and philosophy Anyone who cares about the future of truth in society will want to read this pathbreaking book

Art in Public Lambert Zuidervart, 2010-11-15 This book examines fundamental questions about funding for the arts why should governments provide funding for the arts What do the arts contribute to daily life Do artists and their publics have a social responsibility Challenging questionable assumptions about the state the arts and a democratic society Lambert Zuidervart presents a vigorous case for government funding based on crucial contributions the arts make to civil society He argues that the arts contribute to democratic communication and a social economy fostering the critical and creative dialogue that a democratic society needs Informed by the author's experience leading a non profit arts organisation as well as his expertise in the arts humanities and social sciences this book proposes an entirely new conception of the public role of art with wide ranging implications for education politics and cultural policy

Henderson, Marleen Hengelaar-Rookmaaker, 2024-01-02 The Neo Calvinist tradition is well equipped to offer wisdom on the arts to the whole body of Christ Edited by art scholar Roger Henderson and Marleen Hengelaar Rookmaaker daughter of Hans Rookmaaker this volume brings together history philosophy and theology to consider the relationship between the arts and the Neo Calvinist tradition

Why Only Art Can Save Us Santiago Zabala, 2017-09-05 The state of emergency according to thinkers such as Carl Schmidt Walter Benjamin and Giorgio Agamben is at the heart of any theory of politics But today the problem is not the crises that we do confront which are often used by governments to legitimize themselves but the ones that political realism stops us from recognizing as emergencies from widespread surveillance to climate change to the systemic shocks of neoliberalism We need a way of disrupting the existing order that can energize radical democratic action rather than reinforcing the status quo In this provocative book Santiago Zabala declares that in an age where the greatest emergency is the absence of emergency only contemporary art's capacity to alter reality can save us Why Only Art Can Save Us advances a new aesthetics centered on the nature of the emergency that characterizes the twenty first century Zabala draws on Martin Heidegger's distinction between works of art that rescue us from emergency and those that are rescuers into emergency The former are a means of cultural politics conservers of the status quo that conceal emergencies the latter are disruptive events that thrust us into emergencies Building on Arthur Danto Jacques Rancière and Gianni Vattimo who made aesthetics more responsive to contemporary art Zabala argues that works of art are not simply a means of elevating consumerism or contemplating beauty but are points of departure to change the world Radical artists create works that disclose and demand active intervention in ongoing crises Interpreting works of art that aim to propel us into absent emergencies Zabala shows how art's ability to create new realities is fundamental to the politics of radical democracy in the state of emergency that is the present

Horkheimer Adorno and Habermas to propose a new and transformative concept of truth The idea of truth is a guiding theme for German continental philosophers from Husserl through Habermas In this book Lambert Zuidervaart examines debates surrounding the idea of truth in twentieth century German continental philosophy He argues that the Heideggerian and critical theory traditions have much in common despite the miscommunication opposition and even outright hostility that have prevailed between them including significant roots in the phenomenology of Edmund Husserl Zuidervaart sees the tensions between Heideggerian thought and critical theory as potentially generative sources for a new approach to the idea of truth He argues further that the critical retrieval of insights from German continental philosophy can shed light on current debates in analytic truth theory Zuidervaart structures his account around three issues the distinction between propositional truth and truth that is more than propositional which he calls existential truth the relationship between propositional truth and the discursive justification of propositional truth claims framed in analytic philosophy by debates between epistemic and nonepistemic conceptions of truth and the relationship between propositional truth and the objectivity of knowledge often presented in analytic philosophy as a conflict between realists and antirealists over the relation between truth bearers and truth makers In an innovative and ambitious argument drawing on the work of Husserl Heidegger Horkheimer Adorno and Habermas Zuidervaart proposes a new and transformative conception of truth
