Ghuman, Richard M. Sarles, 2013-06-17 In the past few years there has been a major shift in the mental health care of child and adolescents from inpatient care to non hospital community ambulatory settings Economic pressures have primarily driven this change in service delivery Insurance companies and managed care organizations have not only restricted access to hospitalization and limited length of stays but additionally have sharply reduced reimbursements for treatments State and federal policies for inpatient treatment and reimbursement have followed similar trends As a result mental health planners have attempted to develop programs to deal with this trend of restricted inpatient care shifting treatment of children and adolescents to home and community settings Some of these new programs are well planned and others are hastily planned and implemented The pitfall to this community approach is that there is a population of chronically disturbed children and adolescents and highly stressed parents often lacking adequate personal and family resource who may not respond to these new less restrictive less costly community approaches which potentially may lead to an unsafe and dangerous situation for the child adolescent family and the community With this in mind the purpose of this book is to provide comprehensive and up to date information regarding child and adolescent outpatient day treatment and community psychiatry The emphasis of this book is to provide practical knowledge through clinical case illustrations and to explain various strategies in a detailed fashion Handbook for Child Protection Practice Howard Dubowitz, Diane DePanfilis, 1999-12-22 The timing of the publication with the revised Working Together guidelines could not be more advantageous This book is a unique and important contribution to child care literature No agency should be without Child Abuse Review Professionals concerned with the protection of children face many challenges This work demands knowledge from several disciplines a wide variety of skills and interdisciplinary collaboration The editors Howard Dubowitz a pediatrician and Diane DePanfilis a social worker together with over 70 experts in this field offer what is known about how best to work with maltreated children and their families in a very practical concise and user friendly way Structured to follow the life of a case from the time a report of child maltreatment is made through the various pathways in the child protection system this edited volume synthesizes the best practice principles for responding to reports of child abuse and neglect
