

A detailed botanical illustration in a classic style, featuring a variety of flowers and a butterfly. In the upper left, a large, vibrant yellow and purple flower, possibly a peony, is in full bloom. To its right, a cluster of blue flowers with yellow centers, resembling delphiniums, is shown. Below these, a black and white butterfly with distinct markings on its wings is perched on a green leaf. In the lower left, there are pink and white flowers, some in bud and some open. To the right of the butterfly, a branch with several pink buds is visible. In the bottom right corner, a cluster of small, round, pink and white flowers, possibly carnations, is depicted. The background is a light cream color, and the overall style is reminiscent of 19th-century botanical art.

A Natural History Of English Gardening 1650 1800:

A Natural History of English Gardening, 1650-1800 Mark Laird, 2015 Published for the Paul Mellon Centre for Studies in British Art by Yale University Press The Doctor's Garden Clare Hickman, 2021-10-26 A richly illustrated exploration of how late Georgian gardens associated with medical practitioners advanced science education and agricultural experimentation As Britain grew into an ever expanding empire during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries new and exotic botanical specimens began to arrive within the nation's public and private spaces Gardens became sites not just of leisure sport and aesthetic enjoyment but also of scientific inquiry and knowledge dissemination Medical practitioners used their botanical training to capitalize on the growing fashion for botanical collecting and agricultural experimentation in institutional semipublic and private gardens across Britain This book highlights the role of these medical practitioners in the changing use of gardens in the late Georgian period marked by a fluidity among the ideas of farm laboratory museum and garden Placing these activities within a wider framework of fashionable scientific and economic interests of the time historian Clare Hickman argues that gardens shifted from predominately static places of enjoyment to key gathering places for improvement knowledge sharing and scientific exploration The Curious Mister Catesby E. Charles Nelson, David J. Elliott, 2015-03-01 In 1712 English naturalist Mark Catesby 1683 1749 crossed the Atlantic to Virginia After a seven year stay he returned to England with paintings of plants and animals he had studied They sufficiently impressed other naturalists that in 1722 several Fellows of the Royal Society sponsored his return to North America There Catesby cataloged the flora and fauna of the Carolinas and the Bahamas by gathering seeds and specimens compiling notes and making watercolor sketches Going home to England after five years he began the twenty year task of writing etching and publishing his monumental The Natural History of Carolina Florida and the Bahama Islands Mark Catesby was a man of exceptional courage and determination combined with insatiable curiosity and multiple talents Nevertheless no portrait of him is known The international contributors to this volume review Catesby's biography alongside the historical and scientific significance of his work Ultimately this lavishly illustrated volume advances knowledge of Catesby's explorations collections artwork and publications in order to reassess his importance within the pantheon of early naturalists A Cultural History of Plants in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries Jennifer Milam, 2023-12-14 A Cultural History of Plants in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries covers the period from 1650 to 1800 a time of global exploration and the discovery of new species of plants and their potential uses Trade routes were established which brought Europeans into direct contact with the plants and people of Asia Oceania Africa and the Americas Foreign and exotic plants become objects of cultivation collection and display whilst the applications of plants became central not only to naturalists landowners and gardeners but also to philosophers artists merchants scientists and rulers As the Enlightenment took hold the natural world became something to be grasped through reasoned understanding The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Plants presents the first comprehensive history of the uses and meanings of plants from prehistory to today The themes covered in each volume are plants as staple foods plants as luxury foods trade and exploration plant technology and science plants and medicine plants in culture plants as natural ornaments the representation of plants Jennifer Milam is Pro Vice Chancellor and Professor of Art History University of Newcastle Australia Volume 4 in the Cultural History of Plants set General Editors Annette Giesecke University of Delaware USA and David Mabberley University of Oxford UK The Curious World of Samuel Pepys and John Evelyn

Margaret Willes, 2017-09-19 An intimate portrait of two pivotal Restoration figures during one of the most dramatic periods of English history Samuel Pepys and John Evelyn are two of the most celebrated English diarists They were also extraordinary men and close friends This first full portrait of that friendship transforms our understanding of their times Pepys was earthy and shrewd while Evelyn was a genteel aesthete but both were drawn to intellectual pursuits Brought together by their work to alleviate the plight of sailors caught up in the Dutch wars they shared an inexhaustible curiosity for life and for the exotic Willes explores their mutual interests diary keeping science travel and a love of books and their divergent enthusiasms Pepys for theater and music Evelyn for horticulture and garden design Through the richly documented lives of two remarkable men Willes revisits the history of London and of England in an age of regicide revolution fire and plague to reveal it also as a time of enthralling possibility Gardens and Academies in Early Modern Italy and Beyond

Denis Ribouillault, 2024-10-21 This collection of essays explores the role of gardens in early modern academies and conversely the place of what might be called academic culture in early modern gardens While studies of botanical gardens have often focused on their association with a research institution the intention of this book is deliberately broader seeking to explore the interconnections between the built environment of the early modern garden and the more or less organised social and intellectual life it supported As such the book contributes to the intersection of several fields of research garden history literary history architectural history and socio political history and considers the garden as a site of performance that requires an intermedial approach Dr Johnson's Friend and Robert Adam's Client Topham Beauclerk David

Noy, 2016-05-11 Dr Johnson said that he would walk to the ends of the earth to save Beauclerk Other people who claimed to be his friends rejoiced at his early death How did the beautiful youth of Francis Coates 1756 portrait become a man whose greatest claim to fame was causing an infestation of lice at Blenheim Palace through lack of personal hygiene A great grandson of Charles II and Nell Gwyn he lived a privileged life thanks to fortuitously inherited wealth He employed Robert Adam to build him a house at Muswell Hill which has almost completely disappeared from the records of Adam's work due to a dispute about the bill He was one of the leading book collectors of the time with a library of 30 000 volumes whose sale after his death was a major literary event He also used his wealth to indulge interests in science and astronomy and a passion for gambling As a result he ran through his inheritance as quickly as he could selling it falling into ever increasing debt as his lawyer grew richer Beauclerk knew all the leading figures of the British and French Enlightenment He was a friend of

Johnson Adam Smith David Hume Horace Walpole Sir Joshua Reynolds John Wilkes and David Garrick He met Rousseau and Voltaire and immersed himself in French salon culture He could charm people when he chose to but did not always try Recently he has been overshadowed by his wife Lady Di n e Spencer whose life by Carola Hicks Improper Pursuits 2001 has made her artistic talent and unconventional life well known The story of their adultery and marriage has not previously been told from Beauclerk s point of view and many other inaccuracies have crept into authoritative works such as the ODNB he is regularly and unfairly dismissed as a bad husband This biography shows that he was much more than the close associate of Johnson known from the pages of Boswell a man of widely varied interests from the Grand Tour to the contemporary theatre who lived Enlightenment life to the full in a way which would not have been possible a generation earlier or later Based on research in unpublished letters legal documents and financial records including some concerning the Adam house as well as published diaries letters and memoirs it shows that he may have left no enduring legacy of his many talents as even his friends admitted but he made the most of all the opportunities available and lived a fascinating life which illuminates every aspect of Georgian elite society from auctions to zoology from care of one s wig to building an observatory and from mishaps in Venice to sea therapy in Brighton

Global Goods and the Country House Jon Stobart ,2023-11-20 Global goods were central to the material culture of eighteenth century country houses Across Europe mahogany furniture Chinese wallpapers and Indian textiles formed the backdrop to genteel practices of drinking sweetened coffee tea and chocolate from Chinese porcelain They tied these houses and their wealthy owners into global systems of supply and the processes of colonialism and empire Global Goods and the Country House builds on these narratives and then challenges them by decentring our perspective It offers a comparative framework that explores the definition ownership and meaning of global goods outside the usual context of European imperial powers What were global goods and what did they mean for wealthy landowners in places at the periphery of Europe Sweden and Wallachia in the British colonies of North America and the Caribbean or in the extra colonial context Japan or Rajasthan By addressing these questions this volume offers fresh insights into the multi directional flow of goods and cultures that enmeshed the eighteenth century world And by placing these goods in their specific material context from the English country house to the princely palaces of Rajasthan we gain a better understanding of their use and meaning and of their role in linking the global and the local

Queens Consort, Cultural Transfer and European Politics, c.1500-1800 Helen Watanabe-O'Kelly,Adam Morton,2016-11-03 Queens Consort Cultural Transfer and European Politics examines the roles that queens consort played in dynastic politics and cultural transfer between their natal and marital courts during the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries This collection of essays analyses the part that these queens played in European politics showing how hard and soft power high politics and cultural influences cannot be strictly separated It shows that the root of these consorts power lay in their dynastic networks and the extent to which they cultivated them The consorts studied in this book come from territories such as Austria Braunschweig Hanover Poland

Portugal Prussia and Saxony and travel to among other places Britain Naples Russia Spain and Sweden The various chapters address different types of cultural manifestation among them collecting portraiture panegyric poetry libraries theatre and festivals learning genealogical literature and architecture The volume significantly shifts the direction of scholarship by moving beyond a focus on individual historical women to consider queens consort as a category making it valuable reading for students and scholars of early modern gender and political history
