Local Colour Vladimir Kapor,2009 Local colour is an undertheorized notion Although the expression itself is nowadays used in everyday speech in both French and English its domestication only further highlights the need for a clarifying study of this concept which has come to be crucial in aesthetic debates From the seventeenth century rift between Poussinistes and Rub nistes to the genesis of Romanticist aesthetic theories in early nineteenth century France to the North American regionalist prose of the Local colour movement from Roger de Piles to Benjamin Constant Victor Hugo Prosper M rim e and Hamlin Garland this book sets out to map for the first time couleur locale s three hundred year journey across centuries languages and genres In addition to proposing a genealogy of the concept and the paths of its semantic evolution it also initiates a reflection on the factors that could have prompted the mobility of the term across cultures art forms and their metalanguages

English Literature: The Historical Flow Dr. Prohlad Roy,2014-12-29 Of the actual facts concerning the origin of English literature we know little indeed Nearly all the literary history of the period as far as it concerns the lives of actual writers is a series of skilful reconstructions based on the texts fortified by some scanty contemporary references Such as those of Bede and topped with a mass of conjecture The Anglo Saxon literature is the work of clerks who lived from the seventh to the eleventh century If they did not create all of it they preserved it all it is an essential Christian literature

Teaching Translation LAWRENCE VENUTI,2016-08-05 Over the past half century translation studies has emerged decisively as an academic field around the world and in recent years the number of academic institutions offering instruction in translation has risen along with an increased demand for translators interpreters and translator trainers Teaching Translation is the most comprehensive and theoretically informed overview of current translation teaching Contributions from leading figures in translation studies are preceded by a substantial introduction by Lawrence Venuti in which he presents a view of translation as the ultimate humanistic task an interpretive act that varies the form meaning and effect of the source text 26 incisive chapters are divided into four parts covering certificate and degree programs teaching translation practices studying translation theory history and practice surveys of translation pedagogies and key textbooks The chapters describe long standing programs and courses in the US Canada the UK and Spain and each one presents an exemplary model for teaching that can be replicated or adapted in other institutions Each contributor responds to fundamental questions at the core of any translation course for example how is translation defined What qualifies students for admission to the course What impact does the institutional site have upon the course or pedagogy Teaching Translation will be relevant for all those working and teaching in the areas of translation and translation studies Additional resources for Translation and Interpreting Studies are available on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal
