Narrating Social Work Through Autoethnography Stanley L. Witkin, 2014-06-03 Autoethnography is an innovative approach to inquiry located in the interstices between science and literature Blending researcher and subject roles autoethnographers use analytical strategies to explore the social and cultural contexts of meaningful life experiences and their implications for the present. Social issues are described from the inside out producing narratives that reflect the messy experiential encounters of everyday life. This collection illustrates the value of autoethnography as an inquiry approach for social work practice. Covering such topics as international adoption, cross dressing, divorce, cultural competence, life threatening illness and transformative change, contributors showcase the ambiguities, doubts, contradictions, insights, tensions and epiphanies that accompany their experiences. This anthology provides a readable and unique example of an exciting new trend in qualitative research.

Autoethnography in Early Childhood Education and Care Elizabeth Henderson, 2017-10-16. Autoethnography in Early Childhood Education and Care both embraces and explores autoethnography as a methodology in early childhood settings, subsequently broadening discourses within education research through a series of troubling narratives. It breaks new ground for researchers seeking to use non conventional practices in early years research. Drawing together research and literature from several disciplines, this unique book challenges the perception of what it means to be an early years practitioner. Powerful and compelling narratives from the author's first hand experiences offer both a creative and scholarly insight into the issues faced by those working in early childhood settings. This text offers insight into working with autoethnography, its purpose and methodological tensions, provides professionals engaged in caring, relational approaches with a series of vignettes for training and further reflection, encourages a wider debate and discussion of core values at a critical time in early years practice and other caring professions. Skilfully and sensitively illustrates how to adopt a creative research imagination. This book is a valuable read for researchers, postgraduate students and other professionals working in early childhood education and care seeking to give expression to their voices through creative methodologies such as autoethnography in qualitative research.

Wayfinding and Critical Autoethnography Fetaui Iosefo, Stacy Holman Jones, Anne Harris, 2020-11-05. Wayfinding and Critical Autoethnography is the first critical autoethnography compilation from the global south bringing together indigenous, non indigenous, Pasifika and other diverse voices which expand established understandings of autoethnography as a critical creative methodology. The book centres around the traditional practice of wayfinding as a Pacific indigenous way of being and knowing and this volume manifests traditional knowledges, genealogies and intercultural activist voices through critical autoethnography. The chapters in the collection reflect critical autoethnographic journeys that explore key issues such as space, place, belonging, decolonizing the academy, institutional racism, neoliberalism, gender inequity, activism and education reform. This book will be a valuable teaching and research resource for researchers and students in a wide range of disciplines and contexts. For those interested in expanding their cultural, personal and scholarly knowledge of the global south, this volume foregrounds the vast array of traditional knowledges and the ways in which they are changing academic spaces and knowledge creation through braiding old and new. This volume is unique and timely in its ability to highlight the ways in which indigenous and allied voices from the diverse global south demonstrate the ways in which the onto epistemologies of diverse cultures and the work of critical autoethnography function as parallel and mutually informing projects Developing Grounded Theory Janice M. Morse, Barbara J. Bowers, Kathy Charmaz, Adele E. Clarke, Juliet Corbin, Phyllis Noerager Stern, 2016-07-01 Grounded theory is the most popular genre of qualitative research used in the health professions and is widely used elsewhere in the research world In this volume six key grounded theory methodologists examine the history principles and practices of this method highlighting areas in which different strands of the methods diverge Chapters cover the work of Anselm Strauss Barney Glaser Leonard Schatzman and the postmodern and constructivist schools Dialogues between the participants sharpen the debate and show key topics of agreement and disagreement This volume will be ideal for courses on grounded theory that wish to show the ways in which it can be used in research studies Transforming Gender Equality and Inclusion Within Higher Education in Ireland Lorraine McIlrath, Lorraine Leeson, Helen Maher, Marie Connolly, 2025-08-28 This open access book thematically reflects on and analyses the nature of change and transformation with respect to gender equality inclusion and diversity across higher education in Ireland from the perspectives of those who are pioneering change The authors propose that power gender dynamics and social relations can be challenged and altered through collective action transforming the national policy framework establishing a comprehensive evidence base adopting new policy and approaches to promote equality in practice They outline significant advances made in a 10 year period in terms of overcoming inequalities structural challenges promoting inclusion and advancing diversity This is achieved by consolidating the activities related to gender review processes and practices higher education policy policy enactment at the local level and lessons learned from national policy strategy and funding models The chapters in this volume presented under four thematic headings showcase pioneering practice to a national and international audience and represent a contemporary opportunity to reflect on the nature of change within the context of higher education in Ireland The book will be of interest to academics working in higher education EDI gender studies disability studies and social justice in education as well as higher education leadership policymakers and EDI practitioners Community Music Lee Higgins, 2012-07-09 In Community Music In Theory and in Practice Lee Higgins investigates an interventional approach to music making outside of formal teaching and learning situations Working with historical ethnographic and theoretical research Higgins provides a rich resource for those who practice advocate teach or study community music music education music therapy ethnomusicology and community cultural development
