textbook provides a detailed resource introducing the subdiscipline of mental health informatics. It systematically reviews the methods, paradigms, tools, and knowledge base in both clinical and bioinformatics and across the spectrum from research to clinical care. Key foundational technologies such as terminologies, ontologies, and data exchange standards are presented and given context within the complex landscape of mental health conditions, research, and care. The learning health system model is utilized to emphasize the bi-directional nature of the translational science associated with mental health processes. Descriptions of the data technologies, paradigms, and products that are generated by and used in each process and their limitations are discussed. Mental Health Informatics: Enabling a Learning Mental Healthcare System is a comprehensive introductory resource for students, educators, and researchers in mental health informatics and related behavioral sciences. It is an ideal resource for use in a survey course for both pre and post doctoral training programs as well as for healthcare administrators, funding entities, vendors, and product developers working to make mental healthcare more evidence-based.

Behavioral Healthcare Informatics Naakesh A. Dewan, Nancy M. Lorenzi, Robert T. Riley, Sarbori R.

Bhattacharya, 2014-03-14 This book will provide an overview of the state of the art in behavioral health care informatics as well as discussing the challenges on the horizon such as organizational issues, human-centered issues, educating healthcare executives about technology issues, educating clinicians about behavioral informatics systems, and consumer issues.
