Beyond Experiments In Development Economics Local Economy Wide Impact Evaluation:

Beyond Experiments in Development Economics J. Edward Taylor, Mateusz J. Filipowski, 2014 Provides readers with a methodology to evaluate the impacts of a wide diversity of development projects and policies on local economies together with a diversity of applications of these tools from poverty programs to global price shocks irrigation projects eco tourism migration production subsidies and government corruption Beyond Experiments in Development Economics J. Edward Taylor, Mateusz J. Filipowski, 2014-07-10 This book provides researchers students and practitioners with a methodology to evaluate the impacts of a wide diversity of development projects and policies on local economies Projects and policies often create spillovers within project areas LEWIE uses simulation methods to quantify these spillovers It has become a complement to randomized control trials RCTs as governments and donors become interested in documenting impacts beyond the treated comparing the likely impacts of alternative interventions and designing complementary interventions to influence program and policy impacts It is also a tool for impact evaluation where RCTs are not feasible Chapters 1 4 motivate and present the basics of impact simulation including how to design a LEWIE model how to estimate the model and how to obtain the necessary data The remaining chapters provide a diversity of interesting real world applications and extensions of the basic models The applications include evaluations of the impacts of cash transfers for the poor ecotourism global food price shocks irrigation projects migration and corruption Each chapter provide readers with the tools they need to conduct their own local economy wide impact evaluations All models and data used in this book are available on line

Local economy-wide impact evaluation of Lesotho's Child Grants Programme and Sustainable Poverty Reduction through Income, Nutrition and Access to Government Services Project Kagin, J., Taylor, J.E., Daidone, S., 2021-05-28 This report presents findings from a study of the local economy impacts of one of Lesotho's largest social programmes the Child Grants Programme CGP and a rural development intervention the Sustainable Poverty Reduction through Income Nutrition and Access to Government Services SPRINGS programme The CGP provides cash transfers to eligible poor households while SPRINGS was a multi faceted productive intervention targeting areas reached by the CGP that provided support in various forms The study is part of a larger project a partnership between FAO IFAD and the Universidad de los Andes UNIANDES and its Centro de Estudios en Desarrollo Económico CEDE that seeks to identify factors that lead to better articulation between social protection interventions and rural productive inclusion strategies Local economy-wide impact evaluation of the United Republic of Tanzania's Productive Social Safety Nets Daidone, S., Kagin, J., Taylor J. E., 2023-03-14 To reduce extreme poverty and break its intergenerational transmission in 2012 the Government of the United Republic of Tanzania initiated the Productive Social Safety Net PSSN the flagship social protection programme implemented by the Tanzania Social Action Fund TASAF The PSSN is based on a set of integrated interventions targeted for the poorest and most vulnerable households i a labour intensive public works PW programme ii conditional cash transfers CCTs iii a Livelihood

Enhancement LE component providing support to households economic driven interventions such as community savings and investments and iv Targeted Infrastructure supporting development and rehabilitation of social infrastructures under education health and water sectors During the period 2013 2019 TASAF vastly scaled up the programme in five waves enrolling 11 million households and 51 million individuals in 9960 communities representing approximately 105 percent of the total population A randomized impact evaluation was embedded within the scaled up design of the PSSN which found that even after a short period of implementation 2015 2017 the PSSN achieved several objectives including increased consumption and food security investment in better living conditions and human capital accumulation To complement the findings of the official PSSN impact evaluation in this study we analyse the indirect effects of the PSSN on the overall local economy

From Evidence to Action Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-10-18 Cash transfers have become a key social protection tool in developing countries and have expanded dramatically in the last two decades However the impacts of cash transfers programmes especially in Sub Saharan Africa have not been substantially documented This book presents a detailed overview of the impact evaluations of these programmes carried out by the Transfer Project and FAO's From Protection to Production project The 14 chapters include a review of eight country case studies Kenya Ghana Ethiopia Zambia Zimbabwe Lesotho Malawi South Africa as well as a description of the innovative research methodologies political economy issues and good practices to design cash transfer programmes The key objective of the book is to enhance the understanding of these development programmes how they lead to a broad range of social and productive impacts and also of the role of programme evaluation in the process of developing policies and implementing programmes

Ex-ante evaluation of home-grown school feeding in Senegal Kagit, J., Tian, J., Taylor, J.E., Daidone, S., Pellegrini, F., 2023-04-13 Home grown school feeding programmes have seen a considerable growth around the world These programmes play a key role in supporting the improvement of child health and facilitating access to education as well as in stimulating economic development through local procurement The rigorous evaluation of the effects of these programmes on children and local economy poses several challenges due to the presence of multiple treatment arms complex targeting criteria and the difficulties from lack of treatment randomization This report presents the results of a simulation analysis of different food procurement modalities employed by Senegal's current school feeding programme SFP by using local economy wide impact evaluation LEWIE The LEWIE methodology was designed to capture both the direct and the indirect impacts of a wide range of governmental programmes and policies in local economies The findings suggest that SFPs in Senegal have significant positive impacts on production and income within a 10 km radius of beneficiary schools These impacts grow as SFPs increase their sourcing from local traders and food producers

Economic Development, Agriculture And Climate Change* Antonio Yunez Naude, J Jorge Mora-rivera, 2023-02-24

Climate change CC is currently an unquestionable phenomenon If not stopped it will be catastrophic for life on earth Scientific evidence shows that human activities are the primary driver of CC tendencies since the industrial times In this book we present the relationship between development and CC with special reference to agriculture the rural sector and policies aimed to promote sustainable development We also give special attention to the situation in low and medium income countries particularly rural households and small farmers in these countries The study of agriculture CC and sustainability requires consideration of natural resources and their uses land freshwater forests etc as well as the rural sector since land for agricultural production often expands at the expense of forests In addition the use of water for agricultural production affects the availability of this resource for other uses in the urban industrial and service sectors Consequently sustainable agricultural development under CC requires an interdisciplinary or at least a multidisciplinary approach In this book we do our best to deal with this challenge by focusing on issues and topics related to agriculture and its use of natural resources in the context of CC but without ignoring the interrelations of these phenomena with further aspects of sustainability beyond agriculture
