Manual of Embryo Selection in Human Assisted Reproduction Catherine Racowsky, Jacques Cohen, Nicholas Macklon, 2023-01-26 Selecting the best embryo to transfer to the uterus is key to successful in vitro fertilization (IVF). A huge amount of research has been devoted to this topic, and there are numerous methods used, from simple morphological assessment to molecular biological techniques to assess the genome and metabolism of the newly fertilized embryo. For many of these techniques, an adequate evidence base is lacking, and expert opinion is valuable. Clinical imperatives require ranking all embryos in a cohort according to their viability, thereby enabling the selection of the best embryo to optimize live birth outcome, a key indicator used to measure and rate IVF Clinics worldwide. This clear and informative manual will provide embryologists and clinicians with an overview of the tools now available to assist in embryo selection, as well as evidence for their efficacy and safety, and the broader considerations that must underlie these important clinical decisions.

Research Based Undergraduate Science Teaching Dennis W. Sunal, Cynthia S. Sunal, Emmett L. Wright, Cheryl L. Mason, Dean Zollman, 2014-07-01 Research in Science Education (RISE) Volume 6: Research Based Undergraduate Science Teaching examines research theory and practice concerning issues of teaching science with undergraduates. This RISE volume addresses higher education faculty and all who teach entry-level science. The focus is on helping undergraduates develop a basic science literacy leading to scientific expertise. RISE Volume 6 focuses on research-based reforms leading to best practices in teaching undergraduates in science and engineering. The goal of this volume is to provide a research foundation for the professional development of faculty teaching undergraduate science. Such science instruction should have short and longterm impacts on student outcomes The goal was carried out through a series of events over several years The website at <http://nseus.org> documents materials from these events The international call for manuscripts for this volume requested the inclusion of major priorities and critical research areas methodological concerns and results of implementation of faculty professional development programs and reform in teaching in undergraduate science classrooms In developing research manuscripts to be reviewed for RISE Volume 6 researchers were asked to consider the status and effectiveness of current and experimental practices for reforming undergraduate science courses involving all undergraduates including groups of students who are not always well represented in STEM education To influence practice it is important to understand how researchbased practice is made and how it is implemented The volume should be considered as a first step in thinking through what reform in undergraduate science teaching might look like and how we help faculty to implement such reform
