Between Languages And Cultures Between Languages And Cultures:

Between Languages and Cultures Rosemary Chapman,2009-04-01 Gabrielle Roy is one of the best known figures of Quebec literature yet she spent much of the first thirty years of her life studying working and living in English For Roy as a member of Manitoba's francophone minority bilingualism was a necessary strategy for survival and success How did this bilingual and bicultural background help shape her work as a writer in French The implications of her linguistic and cultural identity are explored in chapters looking at education language translation and the representation of Canada's other minorities from the immigrants in Western Canada to the Inuit of Ungava What emerges is a new reading of Roy's work Drawing on archival material postcolonial theory and translation studies Between Languages and Cultures explores the traces and effects of Roy's intimate knowledge of English language and culture challenging and augmenting the established view that her work is distinctly French Canadian or Québécois

Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Luna Filipovi?, Kasia M. Jaszczolt, Katarzyna M. Jaszczolt, 2012 This is an interdisciplinary volume that focuses on the central topic of the representation of events namely cross cultural differences in representing time and space as well as various aspects of the conceptualisation of space and time It brings together research on space and time from a variety of angles both theoretical and methodological Crossing boundaries between and among disciplines such as linguistics psychology philosophy or anthropology forms a creative platform in a bold attempt to reveal the complex interaction of language culture and cognition in the context of human communication and interaction The authors address the nature of spatial and temporal constructs from a number of perspectives such as cultural specificity in determining time intervals in an Amazonian culture distinct temporalities in a specific Mongolian hunter community Russian specific conceptualisation of temporal relations Seri and Yucatec frames of spatial reference memory of events in space and time and metaphorical meaning stemming from perception and spatial artefacts to name but a few themes The topic of space and time in language and culture is also represented from a different albeit related point of view in the sister volume Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Linguistic Diversity HCP 36 which focuses on the language

Language, Culture, and the Embodied Mind Joseph Shaules, 2019-12-04 There is an odd contradiction at the heart of language and culture learning Language and culture are so to speak two sides of a single coin language reflects the thinking values and worldview of its speakers Despite this there is a persistent split between language and culture in the classroom Foreign language pedagogy is often conceptualized in terms of gaining knowledge and practicing skills while cultural learning goals are often conceptualized in abstract terms such as awareness or criticality This book helps resolve this dilemma Informed by brain and mind sciences its core message is that language and culture learning can both be seen as a single interrelated process the embodiment of dynamic systems of meaning into the intuitive mind This deep learning process is detailed in the form of the Developmental Model of Linguaculture Learning DMLL Grounded in dynamic skill theory the DMLL describes four developmental levels of language and culture learning which represents a subtle yet important shift in language and culture pedagogy Rather than asking how to add culture into language education we should be seeking ways to make language and culture learning deeper more integrated embodied experiential and transformational This book provides a theoretical approach including practical examples for doing so
