Beyond Nostalgia Ruth E. Ray,2000 For three years Ruth E Ray visited and participated in eight writing groups at six senior centers in inner city and suburban Detroit looking for ways in which the elderly fashion their memories through personal narrative Her innovative book involves the reader in the construction of life stories as a richly rewarding and highly social process that often reveals the types of relationships that dominate the lives of group members the majority of whom are women Because Ray wrote and responded herself and shares her anxiety and triumph in presenting her writing to women old enough to be her mother some of a different race and class Beyond Nostalgia is an excellent primer for professionals working with diverse groups in a variety of settings It is also an important contribution to the emerging field of feminist gerontology Ray s book demonstrates its own thesis that the presentation and negotiation of life stories in writing groups initiates change and personal growth among older people Drawing on personal observations the give and take of meeting conversations lengthy interviews and the life stories themselves Ray tells a story of adult development through personal narrative She recreates the group process through which age peers begin to articulate what life means both individually and collectively The writing groups of older adults that Ray studied challenged their members to consider not just cultural influences but generational effects on the evolving content and structure of their life stories Age Ray argues has been largely ignored by feminists and she makes a strong case for the need to learn how women make meaning of their lives across the life span As an important document and analysis of that process Beyond Nostalgia should appeal to academics and practitioners in women s studies composition studies gerontology developmental

Transcultural Feminist Philosophy Yuanfang Dai,2019-12-30 The question of difference how to accommodate the complexity and diversity of women s experiences remains a central point of reference in debates among feminist thinkers In Transcultural Feminist Philosophy Rethinking Difference and Solidarity Through Chinese American Encounters Yuanfang Dai addresses influential approaches to the feminist difference critique Acknowledging that gender oppression assumes different forms in different social and cultural locations Dai denies that this rules out generalizing about women s experiences She proposes a category of women that captures and respects differences and dynamics among women and that can inform possibilities for women in the future Through a critical examination of multicultural and postcolonial feminisms she argues that we need both to rethink the concept of culture and to rework multiculturalism as an analytical and political idea Developing a notion of transculturalism she draws on Chinese feminist scholarship as she explores how a transcultural approach can address tensions between cultural differences and feminist solidarity Transcultural thought and action offers a new way to explore the conditions of women s collective struggles
