Artificial Landscape Contemporary Architecture Urbanism:

The Artificial Landscape Anne Hoogewoning, 2000 The architecture and architectural culture of the Netherlands have been causing quite a stir in recent years a great many remarkable new buildings and projects testify to the current flowering in Dutch architecture urban planning and landscaping that is so exciting to so many in and out of the field Artificial Landscape illustrates the results of this late twentieth century surge of creativity and traces the background of its success examining both the Dutch phenomenon and its socio historical context to find out what makes it work so well What we find is that even in a period of globalization there is still such a thing as a Dutch climate yet despite this culture's specific national character we have much to learn from it particularly where its unique synthesis of architecture urbanism and landscaping is concerned This exciting movement is represented by a selection of designs built works ideas plans and manifestoes from such architects and firms as OMA Rem Koolhaas Neutelings Riedijk MVRDV Maunse Nio and Max 1 to name only a few Apart from recording the state of things in Dutch architecture Artificial Landscape also serves as a survey of contemporary architectural criticism collecting the most important critiques of Dutch architecture urban planning and landscape architecture to have appeared in recent years

The New Architectural Pragmatism William S. Saunders, 2007 In response to the contentious process surrounding the selection of a design for the World Trade Center site the use of spectacular buildings to brand cities and institutions and the dizzying transformations of the skylines of Shanghai and Dubai public awareness of architecture and design has perhaps never been higher At the same time architecture itself is undergoing an identity crisis as it confronts fundamental issues the effect of digital technology on design the pervasive impact of global capitalism and whether to embrace or resist popular media and taste The New Architectural Pragmatism collects the most provocative penetrating and influential attempts by leading theorists and practitioners in the field to define what architectural practice should be at the beginning of the twenty first century Written in the aftermath of modernism's utopian impulse and postmodernism's detached playfulness the essays gathered here express and critique a new spirit of cultural and political engagement with contemporary society Interrogating the architect's social responsibility the contributors deliberate about how much we should ask of architecture and suggest that in the coming century architecture must be at once flexible and robust responsive and self directed Contributors Stan Allen George Baird Lucy Bullivant James Corner Hal Foster Kenneth

Making it Modern Aaron Betsky, 2016-12-15 At its root modernism is that fundamental It is a question of having something to represent that is of the moment In the most radical interpretation modernism always comes too late The modern is that which is always new which is to say always changing and already old by the time it has appeared Modernism is always a retrospective act one of documenting or trying to catch what has already appeared an attempt to fix life as it is being lived Modernity is just the very fact that we as human beings are continually remaking the world around us through our actions and are doing so consciously Modernism is a monument to or memory of that act which in its own making tries to remake the world it is pretending to represent

New Directions in Contemporary Architecture Luigi Prestinenza Puglisi,2008-05-05 Rem Koolhaas has defined architecture as a chaotic adventure Nothing could be more true than that of the last two decades Never has architecture been so unbridled and so extraordinary the architectural cast has never been so wide and their works so diverse What though if you are new to the subject How is it possible to make sense of this seemingly unruly architectural landscape There are so many different types of architecture so many designers with such varying and even contradictory approaches This book is a much needed navigation guide for anyone interested in modern architecture Organised chronologically it enables you to find your way through one of the most prolific periods of building design It looks at buildings in often contrasting styles that have been built almost simultaneously across the world with their roots in very different tendencies and schools of thought A loose but effective framework is provided which pulls all these multiple threads together while key buildings are described individually with a unique clarity and precision Aaron Betsky Director of Cincinnati Art Museum Comprehensive coherent and cogent Puglisi s book sorts out the messy history of the last quarter century of the world s best architecture Professor Iain Borden Head Bartlett School of Architecture UCL Illuminating and insightful a must have read for students Hans Ibelings Editor of A10 new European architecture Lucid and concise Charles Jencks Architecture Critic and Author A compelling comprehensive overview of the avant garde since 1988 as it oscillates in and out of the global star system Bill Menking Editor of The Architect s Newspaper This is the first clear and systematic study of the culture of architecture from the reds of deconstruction to the sustainable greens Beyond the Edge Raymond Gastil,2002-10-25 Through an insightful look at projects from around the world and at the current design proposals for New York itself the author paints a portrait of redevelopment that is both pragmatic and visionary one that holds the promise of reconnecting New Yorkers to their waterfront as a vital place of work and of public life BOOK JACKET
