Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher,2016-05-30 This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society's negotiation of Indigenous people's status within the nation Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art's idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement its vexed relationship with money and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art's meanings in different settings It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental activist and civil society projects have appropriated the art's vitality and metonymic power in national public culture and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement Throughout these examinations Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition

The Life and Work of Ante Dabro, Australian-Croatian Sculptor Peter Read,2023-12-05 Why does a highly skilled and highly trained sculptor the master of every style and technique insist on working in the style of the Italian Renaissance The answer is that to Dabro every sculpture must speak to humanity which means that it must be an element of humanity If it does not the sculptor has failed Working with female models throughout his long life he has sought to portray an essence of femininity and therefore an essence of humanity Ante Dabro believes that the ability to see what other people don't see is a real gift He says It's like a star wheeling round the earth fertilising the imagination as it goes This book explores the different ways he has liberated an essence of humanity by releasing the soul of a human form from its imprisoning substance whether it be from wood marble stone or plaster The author one of Australia's best known historians and biographers like Dabro wants our imaginations to soar and rejoice in the creative spirit which has driven his sculptures for more than 60years
