Knowledge for a Sustainable World

The search for answers to the issue of global sustainability has become increasingly urgent. In the context of higher education, many universities and academics are seeking new insights that can shift our dependence on ways of living that rely on the exploitation of so many and the degradation of so much of our planet. This is the vision that drives SANORD and many of the researchers and institutions within its network. Although much of the research is on a relatively small scale, the vision is steadily gaining momentum, forging dynamic collaborations and pathways to new knowledge. The contributors to this book cover a variety of subject areas and offer fresh insights about chronically under-researched parts of the world. Others document and critically reflect on innovative approaches to cross-continental teaching and research collaborations. This book will be of interest to anyone involved in the transformation of higher education or the practicalities of cross-continental and cross-disciplinary academic collaboration. The Southern African-Nordic Centre (SANORD) is a network of higher education institutions from Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Botswana, Namibia, Malawi, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Universities in the southern African and Nordic regions that are not yet members are encouraged to join.

Insidious Capital

With a team of anthropologists and geographers, Insidious Capital explores “value and values” in what may well be the last phase of capitalist globalization. In a global perspective of fast transforming social spaces that move from East to West, the book explores the struggles around the exploitation and valuation of labor, environmental politics, expansion of the ground rent, new hierarchies, the contradictions of higher education, the off shoring of “immaterial” labor, the illiberal right, and the mobilizations against it. This is a book about the variegated frontlines of value within an uneven, but not random, geography of capitalist expansion.

Ecclesiology in Africa David K. Ngaruiya, Rodney L. Reed, 2024-11-14 In spite of persecution and waning in some areas of the world Christianity in Africa has continued to grow Yet alongside the flourishing of the church comes challenges of syncretism and pluralism In this ninth volume from the annual conference of the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology contributors explore the African Christian s understanding of church through contextual ecclesiology These African theologians address irrefutable realities for the African church while covering an extensive range of topics such as the priesthood of all believers the functions and ministries of church in society and church growth strategies Presenting ecclesiology through the lenses of scriptural examinations historical theology systematic examinations and practical theology these essays work together to build a contemporary understanding of the burgeoning church in Africa through African voices

Unmaking Migrants Stacey Vanderhurst, 2022-06-15 Unmaking Migrants engages critical questions about preventing trafficking by preventing migration through a study of a shelter for trafficking victims in Lagos Nigeria Over the past fifteen years antitrafficking personnel have stopped thousands of women from traveling out of Nigeria and instead sent them to the federal counter trafficking agency for investigation protection and rehabilitation Government officials defend this form of intervention as preemptive having intercepted the women before any abuses take place Yet many of the women protest their detention insist they were not being trafficked and demand to be released As Stacey Vanderhurst argues migration can be a freely made choice Unmaking Migrants shows the moments leading up to the migration choice and it shows how well intentioned efforts to help women considering these paths often don t address their real needs at all

Externalization Yoshihito Dobashi, 2019-09-17 This book explores theoretical issues of the syntax phonology interface within the Minimalist Program of linguistic theory and proposes an entirely new approach to prosodic categories Conceptual as well as empirical questions are addressed concerning how syntactic objects are mapped to the sensorimotor system through the processes of externalization Elaborating on recent progress in the theories of labelling and workspace based syntactic derivation this book further develops a null theory of the prosodic domains and recasts these as the domains of interpretation that are reducible to more fundamental concepts of linguistic theory Phonological phrases are characterized by Minimal Search a third factor principle of efficient computation Intonational phrases are taken to be reflexes of the termination of syntactic derivation which is formulated in terms of the workspace to which MERGE applies This book explores the new implications this theory has for the general architecture of grammar as well as for linguistic interfaces It provides a comprehensive review of the development of theories of the syntax phonology interface from over the past three decades The book is well suited for general linguistic readers as well as phonologists syntacticians and any linguist interested in interface research

Urban Nature Michelle L. Cocks, Charlie M. Shackleton, 2020-11-15 This book showcases the diversity of ways in which urban residents from varying cultural contexts view interact engage with and give meaning to urban nature aiming to counterbalance the dominance of Western depictions and values of urban nature and design Urban nature has up to now largely been defined planned and managed in a way that is heavily dominated by Western understandings values and appreciations which has spread through colonialism and globalisation As cities increasingly represent a diversity of cultures and urban nature is being increasingly recognised as contributing to residents wellbeing belonging and overall quality of life it is important to consider the numerous ways in which urban nature is understood and appreciated This collection of case studies includes examples from Africa Asia Europe North and South America and reflects on the multi dimensional aspects of engagements with urban nature through a biocultural diversity lens The chapters cover several themes such as how engagements with nature contribute to a sense of wellbeing and belonging the implications that diversity has on the provision design and management of urban environments and the threats inhibiting residents abilities to engage meaningfully with nature The book challenges the dominant discourse Western ideological understandings and meta narratives of modernisation and unilineal urban transitions A timely addition to the literature Urban Nature Enriching Belonging Wellbeing and Bioculture offers an alternative to Western ideological understandings of nature and values and will be of great interest to those working in human and environmental urban ecology It will also be key reading for students in the relevant fields of anthropology development studies geography social ecology and urban studies

The Handloom Industry of Begampur in Transition Abhradip Banerjee, 2024-09-05 The Handloom Industry of Begampur in Transition Technology Disjuncture and Development provides an ethnographic description of the handloom industry of the Begampur region Hooghly district West Bengal India While explaining the process of transformation within the industry Abhradip Banerjee explores the uneasy relationship between technology disjuncture and development that has impacted the lives of this particular group of artisans for more than two decades The novelty of this book lies in Banerjee s approach which allowed him to perceive and analyze the process of transition within the handloom weaving tradition of Begampur region from a more inclusive perspective miles away from the pitfall of gross technological determinism The sociotechnical approach allowed him to gauge analyze and incorporate several important but neglected dimensions of this transformation which were otherwise missing in many historiographic or empirical accounts regarding the process of industrialization deindustrialization and class formation in India

The Laziness Myth Christine Jeske, 2020-12-15 When people cannot find good work can they still find good lives By investigating this question in the context of South Africa where only 43 percent of adults are employed Christine Jeske invites readers to examine their own assumptions about how work and the good life do or do not coincide The Laziness Myth challenges the widespread premise that hard work determines success by tracing the titular laziness myth a persistent narrative that disguises the systems and structures that produce inequalities while blaming unemployment and other social ills on the so called laziness of particular class racial and ethnic groups Jeske offers evidence of the laziness myth s harsh consequences as well as insights into how to challenge it with other South African narratives of a good life In contexts as diverse as rapping in a library manufacturing leather shoes weed whacking neighbors yards negotiating marriage plans and sharing water taps the people described in this book will stimulate discussion on creative possibilities for seeking the good life in and out of employment in South Africa and elsewhere
