Life after New Media Sarah Kember, Joanna Zylińska, 2014-12-05 An argument for a shift in understanding new media from a fascination with devices to an examination of the complex processes of mediation In Life after New Media Sarah Kember and Joanna Zylińska make a case for a significant shift in our understanding of new media They argue that we should move beyond our fascination with objects computers smart phones

iPods Kindles to an examination of the interlocking technical social and biological processes of mediation Doing so they say reveals that life itself can be understood as mediated subject to the same processes of reproduction transformation flattening and patenting undergone by other media forms By Kember and Zylinska's account the dispersal of media and technology into our biological and social lives intensifies our entanglement with nonhuman entities Mediation all encompassing and indivisible becomes for them a key trope for understanding our being in the technological world Drawing on the work of Bergson and Derrida while displaying a rigorous playfulness toward philosophy Kember and Zylinska examine the multiple flows of mediation Importantly they also consider the ethical necessity of making a cut to any media processes in order to contain them Considering topics that range from media enacted cosmic events to the intelligent home they propose a new way of doing media studies that is simultaneously critical and creative and that performs an encounter between theory and practice

Necropolitics, Racialization, and Global Capitalism Marina Gržinić, Šefik Tatlić, 2014-06-04 This book articulates a contemporary globalized world as one in which radical disparities in distribution of wealth are being reproduced as the basis for depoliticized social institutional and ideological discourses At its center is a reorientation of global capitalism from the management of life towards making a surplus value from death This change is presented as a reorientation of biopolitics bio meaning life to necropolitics necro meaning death Therefore in the book we work with processes of change of a historicization of biopolitics and its turn into necropolitics that leads to a theoretical trajectory from M Foucault to A Mbembe and beyond This book interprets the sustained perception of existence of dichotomy between these provisional extremes as a trademark of apolitical and or post political logics on which contemporary institutional political and social discourses tend to be structured upon More contrary to the majority of approaches that insists on a profound dichotomy between democracy and totalitarianism between poverty and free market and between democracy and capitalism this book does not interpret these relations as dichotomous but as mutually fulfilling The book elaborates in the context of articulation of these logics contemporary imperial racism racialization as an ideology of capitalism and states that the First World's monopoly on definition of modernity has its basis in contemporary reorganization of colonialism In the book the authors trace a forensic methodology of global capitalism with which life art culture economy and the political are becoming part of a detailed system of scrutiny presented and framed in relation to criminal or civil law Criminalization of each and every segment of our life is working hand in hand with a depoliticization of social conflicts and pacification of the relation between those who rules and those who are ruled The outcome is a differentiation of every single concept that must from now bear the adjectives of the necropolitical or forensic therefore we can talk about forensic images art projects and necropolitical life democracy citizenship This will change radically the perspectives of an emancipative project of politics if it is any possible to be named as such for the future
