Anne Truitt Perception And Reflection:

Anne Truitt: Perception and Reflection, 2009      Anne Truitt Anne Truitt, 2009      Anne Truitt Kristen Hileman, Anne Truitt, James Sampson Meyer, 2009 Anne Truitt an artist based in Washington D C for most of her career remains an under recognized force in art post 1960 which has been dominated by artists like Donald Judd and Ellsworth Kelly who have strongly influenced the movement now known as Minimalism Part of this lack of recognition stems from the fact that Truitt pursued a staunchly independent course in her art not only did she take a different path from the Color Field artists often associated with Washington D C but she created reduced geometric abstraction that deviated from the approaches of Minimalist artists in some significant ways For example her highly nuanced use of colour veered dramatically from primary hues and the titles of many of her works evoked places and events that were important to her suggesting a complex network of references beyond and yet somehow contained by the sculpture This volume and the accompanying exhibition will form an important part of the re evaluation of Truitt s art due to the scope of work which it presents A wide range of three dimensional works will be presented to showcase Truitt s exploration of colour scale and proportion Examples of two dimensional series on canvas in which the artist investigated the cusp of visibility as well as the relationships between painting and sculpture join 24 works on paper some of which date to the year that Truitt first arrived at her radical reduction of form and others that represent a three year period during the 1960 s from which there are almost no extant sculptures At the heart of this volume are colour plates of the columnar sculptures that became the hallmark of Truitt s profoundly focused practice and that made her so significant to the development of minimal abstraction Whilst Truitt s work has featured as part of larger surveys of Minimalism as well as in Truitt s own artist s journals Daybook 1984 Turn 1987 and Prospect 1996 it has never before been the subject of a complete monographic survey For this reason alone publication of Anne Truitt Perception and Reflection in 2009 will be a major event in itself and one that will significantly increase our understanding of post 1960 s art

Cultivating Perception Through Artworks Helen A. Fielding, 2021-11-30 What are the ethical political and cultural consequences of forgetting how to trust our senses How can artworks help us see sense think and interact in ways that are outside of the systems of convention and order that frame so much of our lives In Cultivating Perception through Artworks Helen Fielding challenges us to think alongside and according to artworks cultivating a perception of what is really there and being expressed by them Drawing from and expanding on the work of philosophers such as Luce Irigaray and Maurice Merleau Ponty Fielding urges us to trust our senses and engage relationally with works of art in the here and now rather than distancing and systematizing them as aesthetic objects Cultivating Perception through Artworks examines examples as diverse as a Rembrandt painting M NourbeSe Philip's poetry and Louise Bourgeois public sculpture to demonstrate how artworks enact ethics politics or culture By engaging with different art forms and discovering the unique way that each opens us to the world in a new and unexpected ways Fielding reveals the importance of our moral political and cultural lives

Always Reaching Anne Truitt, 2023-03-14 An expansive collection of texts providing insight into the inner life creativity and practice of the innovative American artist Anne Truitt Spanning more than fifty years this comprehensive volume collects the letters journal entries interviews lectures reviews and remembrances of the groundbreaking twentieth century artist Anne Truitt 1921 2004 Alexandra Truitt the artist's daughter and a leading expert on her work has carefully selected these writings most of which are previously unpublished from the artist's papers at Bryn Mawr College as well as private holdings Revelations about the artist's life abound Among Truitt's earliest writings are excerpts from journals written more than a decade before her first artistic breakthrough in which she establishes themes that would occupy her for decades In later texts she shares uncommon insights into the practices of other artists and writers both predecessors and peers Like Truitt's published journals these writings offer a compelling narrative of her development as an artist and efforts to find her voice as a writer They show that Truitt's creative impulse to translate the inner workings of her mind into a symbolic language so important to understanding her sculpture predates her art

Modern Women: Women Artists at The Museum of Modern Art Alexandra Schwartz, 2010 This text examines the collection of feminist art in the Museum of Modern Art It features essays presenting a range of generational and cultural perspectives

Lifework Moran Sheleg, 2024-07-23 Following the critical scepticism surrounding the notion of the self as a singular entity during the 1960s many artists and writers sought to test the apparent problem posed by autobiography as both a traditional genre and as a way of working Considering the consequent emergence of autotheory Lifework traces this shift in artistic and literary production during the late twentieth century and beyond examining a set of diverse practices that mine the line between what it is to make art and what it is to live life The book's chapters connect a variety of artistic strategies that cut across medium geography and time uncovering how the historical marginalisation of first person experience has taken on larger social cultural and political implications in the contemporary moment and how the work of living might still relate to the work of art

Memory Work Miguel de Baca, 2015-12-08 Memory Work demonstrates the evolution of the pioneering minimalist sculptor Anne Truitt analyzing the key theme of memory in her practice In addition to the artist's own popular published writings which detail the unique challenges facing female artists Memory Work draws on unpublished manuscripts private recordings and never before seen working drawings to validate Truitt's original ideas about the link between perception and mnemonic reference in contemporary art Provided by publisher     Art in the Making Glenn Adamson, Julia Bryan-Wilson, 2016-08-16 The first book to address the significance of the materials and methods used to make contemporary artworks Today artists are able to create using multiple methods of production from painting to digital technologies to crowdsourcing some of which would have been unheard of just a few decades ago Yet even as our means of making art become more extraordinary and diverse they are almost never addressed in their specificity While critics and viewers tend to focus on the finished products we see in museums and galleries authors Glenn Adamson and Julia Bryan Wilson argue that the materials and processes behind the scenes used to make artworks are also vital to current considerations of authorship and to understanding the economic and social contexts from which art emerges This wide ranging exploration of different methods and media in art since the 1950s includes nine chapters that focus on individual processes of making Painting Woodworking Building Performing Tooling Up Cashing In Fabricating Digitizing and Crowdsourcing Detailed examples are interwoven with the discussion including visuals that reveal the intricacies of techniques and materials Artists featured include Ai Weiwei Alice Aycock Isa Genzken Los Carpinteros Paul Pfeiffer Doris Salcedo Santiago Sierra and Rachel Whiteread     "American Women Artists, 1935-1970 " Helen Langa, 2017-07-05 Numerous American women artists built successful professional careers in the mid twentieth century while confronting challenging cultural transitions shifts in stylistic avant gardism harsh political transformations and changing gender expectations for both women and men These social and political upheavals provoked complex intellectual and aesthetic tensions Critical discourses about style and expressive value were also renegotiated while still privileging masculinist concepts of aesthetic authenticity In these contexts women artists developed their careers by adopting innovative approaches to contemporary subjects techniques and media However while a few women working during these decades have gained significant recognition many others are still consigned to historical obscurity The essays in this volume take varied approaches to revising this historical silence Two focus on evidence of gender biases in several exhibitions and contemporary critical writings the rest discuss individual artists complex relationships to mainstream developments with attention to gender and political biases cultural innovations and the influence of racial ethnic diversity Several also explore new interpretative directions to open alternative possibilities for evaluating women s aesthetic and formal choices Through its complex nuanced approach to issues of gender and female agency this volume offers valuable and exciting new scholarship in twentieth century American art history and feminist studies
