Practice-Led

Theology Neil K. Ferguson, 2024-03-11 Following a series of economic and political changes in the late 1980s art design schools and performing arts academies were incorporated into the university system To justify their teachings as academic research they developed the idea of practice led research Practice led research recognizes two or more languages that is the validity of both explicit propositional knowledge and embodied tacit knowledge allowing for the researcher s corresponding output expressed through both the written word and relevant practice Christians often find themselves living a life of two languages a set of intellectual beliefs and the practice of being a Christian This book develops this methodology and translates it for use in theological research Most importantly it clearly develops key elements of this methodology using a comprehensive model and detailed definitions This is a book which not only presents a fully articulated and flexible model of practice led research but also presents Christian researchers with an approach they could incorporate into their theological work

Conversations with Silence Sally Longley, 2021-01-08 Silence scary inviting or both What do you do with silence And what if silence was a language we could learn to read hear and even speak This book invites you to tune the eyes and ears of your heart to the cadences of silence Enter into conversations with silence as you are taken on an odyssey Venture into the Australian bush Trek deep into the red desert Encounter shadows and desert dwellers

You will also delve into the tiny houses of everyday silences and receive their gifts of hospitality And stumbling into that other territory where silence becomes a death threat or survival an orchard can show you the fruit of life beginning again Conversations with Silence takes you to the Rosetta Stone of an ancient forgotten language a language some have called God or the soul Immerse yourself in the silent realm of mystics musicians poets and pilgrims of every path These are our companions as we explore the nuanced vocabulary of the worlds of silences and join in the conversation with a new voice

A Brush with God Peter Pearson, 2005-10-01 Step by step instructions for painting icons from original drawings through finished product For more than a thousand years Eastern Christians have used their hands and hearts to create icons proclaiming God's reality in a visible and breathtakingly beautiful way This ancient art is enjoying a renewed interest in the West as people of faith create icons and use them to meditate on mysteries for which there are no words A Brush with God is a guide to painting icons and using them in prayer Written with warmth and energy it describes the history of icons and examines why they've been a spiritual tool for so many centuries Written from a uniquely Western perspective the book guides artists from novices to professionals through the process of icon painting using traditional techniques but employing contemporary materials Included are eight full color plates of the artist's icons Sanctifying Art Deborah

Sokolove, 2013-07-10 As an artist Deborah Sokolove has often been surprised and dismayed by the unexamined attitudes and assumptions that the church holds about how artists think and how art functions in human life By investigating these attitudes and tying them to concrete examples Sokolove hopes to demystify art to bring art down to earth where theologians pastors and ordinary Christians can wrestle with its meanings participate in its processes and understand its uses In showing the commonalities and distinctions among the various ways that artists themselves approach their work Sanctifying Art can help the church talk about the arts in ways that artists will recognize As a member of both the church and the art world Sokolove is well positioned to bridge the gap between the habits of thought that inform the discourse of the art world and those quite different ideas about art that are taken for granted by many Christians When art is understood as intellectual technical and physical as well as ethereal mysterious and sacred we will see it as an integral part of our life together in Christ fully human and fully divine Conversation with God Chrysanthi Baltoyanni, Chrysanthē Mpaltogiannē, Vyzantino

Mouseio (Athens, Greece), 1998 Icons in Time, Persons in Eternity C.A. Tsakiridou, 2016-05-13 Icons in Time Persons in Eternity presents a critical interdisciplinary examination of contemporary theological and philosophical studies of the Christian image and redefines this within the Orthodox tradition by exploring the ontological and aesthetic implications of Orthodox ascetic and mystical theology It finds Modernist interest in the aesthetic peculiarity of icons significant and essential for re-evaluating their relationship to non-representational art Drawing on classical Greek art criticism Byzantine ekphrasis and hymnography and the theologies of St Maximus the Confessor St Symeon the New Theologian and St Gregory Palamas the author argues that the ancient Greek concept of enargeia best conveys the expression of theophany and theosis in art The qualities that define energeia inherent liveliness expressive autonomy and self subsisting form are identified in exemplary Greek and Russian icons and considered in the context of the hesychastic theology that lies at the heart of Orthodox Christianity An Orthodox aesthetics is thus outlined that recognizes the transcendent being of art and is open to dialogue with diverse pictorial and iconographic traditions An examination of Chinese Zen art theory and a comparison of icons with paintings by Wassily Kandinsky Pablo Picasso Mark Rothko and Marc Chagall and by Japanese artists influenced by Zen Buddhism reveal intriguing points of convergence and difference The reader will find in these pages reasons to reconcile Modernism with the Christian image and Orthodox tradition with creative form in art Material Christianity Christopher Ocker, Susanna Elm, 2020-02-26 This collection of essays offers a series of rigorously focused art historical historical and philosophical studies that examine ways in which materiality has posed and still poses a religious and cultural problem The volume examines the material agency of objects artifacts and environments art ritual pilgrimage food and philosophy It studies the variable senses of materiality the place of materiality in the formation of modern Western religion and its role in Christianity's dialogue with non Western religions The essays present new interpretations of religious rites and outlooks through the focus on their material components They also suggest how material engagement theory a new movement in cultural anthropology and archeology may shed light on the cultural history of Christianity in medieval and early modern Europe and the Americas It thus fills an important lacuna in the study of western religion by highlighting the longue durée from the Middle Ages to the Modern Period of a current dilemma namely the divide between materialistic and what might broadly be called hermeneutical or cultural critical approaches to religion and human subjectivity
