Craig, 1995-05-11 In a book written during the First World War Thomas Mann wrote that political activity was alien to the German spirit and that in fact the political element was absent from the German concept of education The Politics of the Unpolitical demonstrates the essential unreliability of this generalization by focusing on the political activity of ten of Germany's most widely respected writers in the period from the French Revolution to the founding of the Bismarck Reich in 1871 Gordon A Craig's book shows how Goethe Schiller Heinrich von Kleist Wilhelm von Humboldt Holderlin and Heine were fascinated by the political issues of their day and reacted either by entering public service or threw themselves into efforts to change society for the better In his study of ten of Germany's most important intellectuals Craig focuses on their political views and activities and argues that they were not in fact representatives of the genre of the unpolitical German Showcasing Science Martin Weiss, 2025-10-01 Teylers Museum was founded in 1784 and soon thereafter became one of the most important centres of Dutch science The Museum's first director Martinus van Marum famously had the world's largest electrostatic generator built and set up in Haarlem This subsequently became the most prominent item in the Museum's world class publicly accessible and constantly growing collections These comprised scientific instruments mineralogical and palaeontological specimens prints drawings paintings and coins Van Marum's successors continued to uphold the institution's prestige and use the collections for research purposes while it was increasingly perceived as an art museum by the public In the early twentieth century the Nobel Prize laureate Hendrik Antoon Lorentz was appointed head of the scientific instrument collection and conducted experiments on the Museum's premises Showcasing Science A History of Teylers Museum in the Nineteenth Century charts the history of Teylers Museum from its inception until Lorentz's tenure From the vantage point of the Museum's scientific instrument collection this book gives an analysis of the changing public role of Teylers Museum over the course of the nineteenth century Coenraad Jacob Temminck and the Emergence of Systematics (1800-1850) Eulàlia Gassó
