Five Views on the Church and Politics J. Brian Benestad, Robert Benne, Bruce Fields, Thomas W. Heilke, James K.A. Smith, 2015-12-15 Learn to think deeply about the relationship between church and state in a way that goes beyond mere policy debates and current campaigns Few topics can grab headlines and stir passions quite like politics especially when the church is involved Considering the attention that many Christian parachurch groups churches and individual believers give to politics and of the varying and sometimes divergent political ideals and aims among them Five Views on the Church and Politics provides a helpful breakdown of the possible Christian approaches to political involvement General Editor Amy Black brings together five top notch political theologians in the book each representing one of the five key political traditions within Christianity Anabaptist Separationist the most limited possible Christian involvement in politics represented by Thomas Heilke Lutheran Paradoxical strong separation of church and state represented by Robert Benne Black Church Prophetic the church's mission is to be a voice for communal reform represented by Bruce Fields Reformed Transformationist emphasizes God's sovereignty over all things including churches and governments represented by James K A Smith Catholic Synthetic encouragement of political participation as a means to further the common good of all people represented by J Brian Benestad Each author addresses his tradition's theological distinctives the role of government the place of individual Christian participation in government and politics and how churches should or should not address political questions Responses by each contributor to opposing views will highlight key areas of difference and disagreement Thorough and even handed Five Views on the Church and Politics will enable readers to consider the strengths and weaknesses of the most significant Christian views on political engagement and to draw their own informed conclusions The Advocate

Beyond Good Intentions Doug Bandow,1988 Not in It to Win It Andy Stanley,2022-05-10 Is it possible to disagree politically and love unconditionally The reaction of evangelicals to political and cultural shifts in recent years revealed what they value most Lurking beneath our Bible laced rhetoric faith claims books and sermons is a relentless drive to WIN But the church is not here to win By every human measure our Savior lost On purpose With a purpose And we are his body We are not in it to win anything We are in it for something else entirely That something else is what this book is about You'll discover How to take a stand the right way You'll learn how to make your case with a posture of humility and understanding rather than being fueled by the fear of losing something How to view politics through the lens of faith Learn curiously listen intentionally and love unconditionally How the life of Jesus and his teaching applies to modern day challenges in a fresh way The biblical stand may not be what we've been taught Jesus never asked his followers to agree on everything But he did call his followers to obey a new command to love others in the same way he has loved us Instead of asserting our rights or fighting for power we need to begin asking ourselves what does love require of me Honoring God in Red or Blue

SAMPLER Dr. Amy E. Black, 2012-06-01 Enjoy these SAMPLE pages from Honoring God in Red or Blue As our nation approaches a decision of another presidential election they're also faced with the great challenge of discussing political issues with grace truth and love Many believers fall into one of two traps becoming so outspoken that their political fervor becomes a detriment to their Christian testimony or fearing controversy to the point of silence on important issues of faith and community Dr Black brings a sensibility and urgency to the issue with this nonpartisan guidebook for debating key issues with respect and conviction For anyone frustrated until they're red in the eyes or blue in the face or those who bite their tongues or withdraw completely from the discussion this book is a critical manifesto to improving both our government and our sense of civility in the discourse Understanding Four Views on the Lord's Supper Zondervan, 2009-05-26
