The Affective Negotiation of Slum Tourism Tore Holst, 2018-01-29 Each year approximately a million tourists visit slum areas on guided tours as a part of their holiday to Asia Africa or Latin America This book analyses the cultural encounters that take place between slum tourists and former street children who work as tour guides for a local NGO in Delhi India Slum tours are typically framed as both tourist performances bought as commodities for a price on the market and as appeals for aid that tourists encounter within an altruistic discourse of charity This book enriches the tourism debate by interpreting tourist performances as affective economies identifying tour guides as emotional labourers and raising questions on the long term impacts of economically unbalanced encounters with representatives of the Global North including the researcher This book studies the feeling rules governing a slum tour and how they shape interactions When do guides permit tourists to exoticise the slum and feel a thrilling sense of disgust towards the effects of abject poverty and when do they instead guide them towards a sense of solidarity with the slum s inhabitants What happens if the tourists rebel and transgress the boundaries delimiting the space of comfortable affective negotiation constituted by the guides This book will be essential reading for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers working within the fields of Human Geography Slum Tourism Research Subaltern Studies and Development Studies

Designing Our Way to a Better World Thomas Fisher, 2016-05-01 Envisioning what we need when it doesn t yet exist this Thomas Fisher tells us is what design does And if what we need now is a better world functioning schools working infrastructure thriving cities why not design one Fisher shows how the principles of design apply to services and systems that seem to evolve naturally systems whose failures sometimes seem as arbitrary and inevitable as the weather But the invisible systems we depend on for our daily lives in education politics economics and public health are designed every bit as much as the products we buy and the environments we inhabit and are just as susceptible to creative reimagining Designing Our Way to a Better World challenges the assumptions that have led to so much poor performance in the public and private realms that our schools cannot teach creativity that our governments cannot predict the disasters that befall us that our health system will protect us from pandemics that our politics will remain polarized that our economy cannot avoid inequality and that our industry cannot help but pollute the environment Targeting these assumptions Fisher s approach reveals the power of design to synthesize our knowledge about the world into greater wholes In doing so this book opens up possible futures and better futures than the unsustainable and inequitable one we now face The Literary Review ,2012

Representing Poverty in the Anglophone Postcolonial World Verena Jain-Warden,Barbara Schmidt-Haberkamp,2021-06-07 Originally a concern primarily of social studies and economics poverty has emerged as a significant thematic focus and analytical tool in literary and cultural studies in the last two decades The new poverty studies are dedicated to analyzing representations of poverty and the poor in literature and the visual arts in the news media and in social practices They aim at exploring the frameworks of representation that impact the affective and ethical responses of audiences to disenfranchised groups such as the poor The contributions to this volume focus on representations of poverty in the Anglophone postcolonial world exploring for example contemporary discourses on poverty in the UK filmic representations of Nairobi slums or the agency of the poor in literature from India Re-Inventing the Postcolonial (in the) Metropolis Cecile Sandten,Annika Bauer,2016-09-27 The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta Chris Abani Amit Chaudhuri Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Helon Habila Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming reinventing and reconfiguring the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives In this context the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand South Africa

South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition

Unseen City Ankhi Mukherjee, 2021-12-09 In Unseen City The Psychic Lives of the Urban Poor Ankhi Mukherjee offers a magisterial work of literary and cultural criticism which examines the relationship between global cities poverty and psychoanalysis Spanning three continents this hugely ambitious book reads fictional representations of poverty with each city's psychoanalytic and psychiatric culture particularly as that culture is fostered by state policies toward the welfare needs of impoverished populations It explores the causal relationship between precarity and mental health through clinical case studies the product of extensive collaborations and knowledge sharing with community psychotherapeutic initiatives in six global cities These are layered with twentieth and twenty first century works of world literature that explore issues of identity illness and death at the intersections of class race globalisation and migrancy In Unseen City Mukherjee argues that a humanistic and imaginative engagement with the psychic lives of the dispossessed is key to an adapted psychoanalysis for the poor and that seeking equity of the unconscious is key to poverty alleviation
