Being There The Fieldwork Encounter And The Making Of Truth:

Being There John Borneman, Abdellah Hammoudi, 2009-02-04 Challenges to ethnographic authority and to the ethics of representation have led many contemporary anthropologists to abandon fieldwork in favor of strategies of theoretical puppeteering textual analysis and surrogate ethnography In Being There John Borneman and Abdellah Hammoudi argue that ethnographies based on these strategies elide important insights To demonstrate the power and knowledge attained through the fieldwork experience they have gathered essays by anthropologists working in Morocco Saudi Arabia Syria Tanzania the Canadian Arctic India Germany and Russia that shift attention back to the subtle dynamics of the ethnographic encounter From an Inuit village to the foothills of Kilimanjaro each account illustrates how despite its challenges fieldwork yields important insights outside the reach of textual analysis

Rapport and the Discursive Co-Construction of Social Relations in Fieldwork Encounters Zane Goebel, 2019-08-19 In accounts of ethnographic fieldwork and textbooks on ethnography we often find the notion of rapport used to describe social relationships in the field Frequently rapport between researcher and researched is invoked as a prerequisite to be achieved before fieldwork can start or used as evidence to judge the value and robustness of an ethnography With few exceptions and despite regular pleas to do so ethnographers continue to avoid presenting any discursive evidence of what rapport might look like from an interactional perspective In a sense the uncritical acceptance of rapport as a fieldwork goal and measure has helped hide the discursive work that goes on in the field In turn this has privileged ideas about identity as portable rather than portable and emergent and reports of social life as more important than how such reports emerge Written for all those who engage or plan to engage in ethnographic fieldwork this collection examines how social relationships dialogically emerge in fieldwork settings

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Alan Barnard, Jonathan Spencer, 2009-12-04 Written by leading scholars in the field this comprehensive and readable resource gives anthropology students a unique guide to the ideas arguments and history of the discipline Combining anthropological theory and ethnography it includes 275 substantial entries over 300 short biographies of important figures in anthropology and nearly 600 glossary items The fully revised and expanded second edition reflects major changes in anthropology in the past decade

Social Anthropology in the Arab World Abdullah Alajmi, Daniele Cantini, Irene Maffi, Imed Melliti, 2025-08-01 There are ongoing efforts in anthropology to decolonise its history and give fairer space to marginalised traditions This book examines the history and institutionalisation of anthropology in the Maghreb the Mashreq and the Gulf in an open and collaborative manner and from various perspectives Its primary focus is two fold first to reorient the anthropological focus towards studies conducted in the region particularly on the conditions conducive to the institutionalisation of anthropological knowledge second to shed light on anthropological studies in languages other than English offering different theoretical and epistemological perspectives

A Research Agenda for COVID-19 and Society Matthewman, Steve, 2022-08-12 With contributions from leading experts in the fields of anthropology communications disaster studies economics epidemiology Indigenous studies philosophy and sociology this expansive book offers a diverse range of social science perspectives on the COVID 19 pandemic providing critical insights into what a research agenda for COVID 19 and society resembles across different fields of study Tight Knit Elizabeth L. Krause, 2018-08-17 The coveted Made in Italy label calls to mind visions of nimble fingered Italian tailors lovingly sewing elegant high end clothing The phrase evokes a sense of authenticity heritage and rustic charm Yet as Elizabeth L. Krause uncovers in Tight Knit Chinese migrants are the ones sewing Made in Italy labels into low cost items for a thriving fast fashion industry all the while adding new patterns to the social fabric of Italy's iconic industry Krause offers a revelatory look into how families involved in the fashion industry are coping with globalization based on longterm research in Prato the historic hub of textile production in the heart of metropolitan Tuscany She brings to the fore the tensions over value money beauty family care and belonging that are reaching a boiling point as the country struggles to deal with the same migration pressures that are triggering backlash all over Europe and North America Tight Knit tells a fascinating story about the heterogeneity of contemporary capitalism that will interest social scientists immigration experts and anyone curious about how globalization is changing the most basic of human conditions making a living and making a life The Hidden Minority Helena Jerman, 2024-11-01 Looking at the Finnish Russian borderland as a transnational space and claiming that there is a need to understand the long term effects of migration a continuing process spanning several generations The Hidden Minority takes a multi temporal perspective on mobility and belonging The focus of this ethnographic study is the Russian minority in Finland which is socially economically politically and culturally heterogeneous The Russian minority in Finland is imbued with being hidden or hiding oneself The book explores informants reflections together with the author on the mental and physical crossing of national borders Perceptions of belonging and or Otherness and lived experience reveal a complex relationship of embodied memory history time and a multi national social space Tourism and Development in Southeast Asia Claudia Dolezal, Alexander Trupp, Huong T. Bui, 2020-03-24 This book analyses the role tourism plays for sustainable development in Southeast Asia It seeks to assesses tourism's impact on residents and localities across the region by critically debating and offering new understandings of its dynamics on the global and local levels Offering a myriad of case studies from a range of different countries in the region this book is interdisciplinary in nature thereby presenting a comprehensive overview of tourism's current and future role in development Divided into four parts it discusses the nexus of tourism and development at both the regional and national levels with a focus on theoretical and methodological foundations protected areas local communities and broader issues of governance Contributors from within and outside of Southeast Asia raise awareness of the local challenges including issues of ownership or unequal power relations and celebrate best practice examples where tourism can be regarded as making a positive difference to residents life The first edited volume to examine comprehensive analysis of tourism in Southeast Asia as both an economic and social phenomenon through the lens of development this book will be useful to students and scholars of tourism development Southeast Asian culture and society and Asian Studies more generally

Reflections on Imagination Mark Harris, Nigel Rapport, 2016-03-03 In this innovative volume anthropologists turn their attention to a topic that has rarely figured as a focus of concerted investigation and yet which can be described as an intrinsic aspect of all human knowing and part of all processes by which human beings process information about themselves their identities their environments and their relations the imagination How do anthropologists use imagination in coming to know their research subjects How might they and how should they use their imagination And how do research subjects themselves understand describe justify and limit their use of the imagination Presenting a range of case studies from a variety of locations including the UK US Africa East Asia and South America this collection offers a comparative exploration of how imagination has been conceptualized and understood in a range of analytical traditions with regard to issues of both methodology and ethnomethodology With emphasis not on abstraction but on imagination as activity technique and subject situated in the middle of lives Reflections on Imagination sheds new light on imagination as a universal capacity and practice something to which human beings attend whenever they make sense of their environments and situate their life projects in these environments the means by which worlds come to be

Other, Please Specify D'Lane R. Compton, Tey Meadow, Kristen Schilt, 2018-07-31 This provocative collection showcases the work of emerging and established sociologists in the fields of sexuality and gender studies as they reflect on what it means to develop practice and teach queer methods Located within the critical conversation about the possibilities and challenges of utilizing insights from humanistic queer epistemologies in social scientific research Other Please Specify presents to a new generation of researchers an array of experiences insights and approaches revealing the power of investigations of the social world With contributions from sociologists who have helped define queer studies and who use a range of interpretative and statistical methods this volume offers methodological advice and practical strategies in research design and execution all with the intent of getting queer research off the ground and building a collaborative community within this emerging subfield
