Michael Cormack

Between The Hunters And The Hunted:

Between the Hunters And the Hunted Steven Wilson, 2005 From the author of the acclaimed debut Voyage of the Grey Wolves comes a story of the early days of World War II of two countries bound together by hope and the common foe that could destroy that hope in one devastating strike Original Hunting - Philosophy for Everyone Nathan Kowalsky, 2011-01-14 Hunting Philosophy for Everyone presents a collection of readings from academics and non academics alike that move beyond the ethical justification of hunting to investigate less traditional topics and offer fresh perspectives on why we hunt The only recent book to explicitly examine the philosophical issues surrounding hunting Shatters many of the stereotypes about hunting forcing us to rethink the topic Features contributions from a wide range of academic and non academic sources including both hunters and non hunters Woman the Hunter Mary Zeiss Stange, 1998-07-01 Over two million American women hunt By taking up weapons for the explicit purpose of killing they are shattering one of Western culture s oldest and most firmly entrenched taboos The image of a woman armed and dangerous is profoundly threatening to our collective psyche and it is rejected by macho males and radical feminists alike Woman the Hunter juxtaposes unsettlingly beautiful accounts of the author s own experiences hunting deer antelope and elk with an argument that builds on the work of thinkers from Aldo Leopold to Clarissa Pinkola Estes Exploring how women and men relate to nature and violence Mary Zeiss Stange demonstrates how false assumptions about women and about hunting permeate contemporary thought Her book is a profound critique of our society s evasion of issues that make us uncomfortable and it culminates in a surprising claim that only by appreciating the value of hunting can we come to understand what it means to be human Controversial and original defying easy stereotypes Woman the Hunter is sure to provoke strong reactions in almost every reader

Nature and Culture Sarah Pilgrim, Jules N. Pretty, 2010-09-23 There is a growing recognition that the diversity of life comprises both biological and cultural diversity But this division is not universal and in many cases has been deepened by the common disciplinary divide between the natural and social sciences and our apparent need to manage and control nature This book goes beyond divisive definitions and investigates the bridges linking biological and cultural diversity The international team of authors explore the common drivers of loss and argue that policy responses should target both forms of diversity in a novel integrative approach to conservation thus reducing the gap between science policy and practice While conserving nature alongside human cultures presents unique challenges this book forcefully shows that any hope for saving biological diversity is predicated on a concomitant effort to appreciate and protect cultural diversity Brutal Brian Luke, 2007 Explores the gender divide over our treatment of animals exposing the central role of masculinity in systems of animal exploitation including hunting Luke develops a new theory of how exploitative institutions do not work to promote human flourishing but instead merely act as support for a particular construction of manhood from publisher description

and the first to link these films with both mainstream horror films and classic Gothic novels and stories This book provides readers with innovative and thought provoking analyses of Blaxploitation horror films conventional horror films and major works of Gothic fiction It considers how Blaxploitation horror films of the 1970s addressed issues of deep concern to their contemporary audiences including not only racism and the Black Power movement but also women s and gay rights the status of the African American family the role of religion and relations between the community and the police Bitter Shade Michael R. Dove,2021 A seminal anthropological work on the paradoxical relationship between human consciousness and the environment Innovative insightful incandescent Arun Agrawal author of Environmentality Technologies of Government and the Making of Subjects This book asks age old questions about the relationship between human consciousness and the environment How do we think about our own thoughts and actions How can we transcend the exigencies of daily life How can we achieve sufficient distance from our own everyday realities to think and act more sustainably To address these questions Michael R Dove draws on the results of decades of research in South and Southeast Asia on how local cultures have circumvented the curse of consciousness the paradox that we cannot completely comprehend the ecosystem of which we are part He distills from his ethnographic ecological and historical research three principles perspectivism seeing oneself from outside oneself metamorphosis becoming something that one is not and mimesis copying something that one is not which help a society to transcend the hubris and myopia of everyday existence and achieve greater insight into its ecosystem Analysis of the 1985 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-associated Recreation Michael J. Hay,1989 Indigenous and Minority Populations Sylvanus Barnabas,2023-06-21 The sections and chapters contained in this book deal with issues and challenges facing indigenous and minority populations located in several geographical areas of the world The papers are written by writers and scholars from various parts of the world and like any piece of literature on indigenous and minority populations the topics are diverse The perspectives are both interdisciplinary and multi disciplinary The issues examined in the various chapters cover areas pertaining to their human rights preservation of their culture and identity traditional knowledge and their challenges but also scholarly and epistemological approaches to understanding and articulating such topics in academic contexts Indeed the issues around indigenous and minority populations across the world transcend their human rights concerns in relation to dominant groups and institutions within the territorial boundaries of the modern states where they currently live These issues are cultural anthropological sociological philosophical and epistemological as well as historical Any scholarly piece of work on indigenous and minority populations is therefore inevitably inter disciplinary multi disciplinary or both The various topics examined by the authors epitomize this diversity of issues around such populations The book is a significant source of information for students academics practitioners policymakers government officials and non governmental organisations working on issues that pertain to such populations at national regional and global levels Ideology And Cinematography In Hollywood:

1930-1939 Michael Cormack, 1993-11-26 Hollywood films of the 1930s are frequently treated as if they all conformed to one cinematographic style This book shows that this was not the case and describes the various stylistic changes in the use of the camera and lighting which took place during the decade These changes did not of course occur in a vacuum and the ideological conditions in which the films were made is shown to be a crucial factor in explaining these changes
