A Critical History of Contemporary Architecture Elie G. Haddad, David Rifkind, 2016-12-05 1960 following as it did the last CIAM meeting signalled a turning point for the Modern Movement. From then on architecture was influenced by seminal texts by Aldo Rossi and Robert Venturi and gave rise to the first revisionary movement following Modernism. Bringing together leading experts in the field, this book provides a comprehensive critical overview of the developments in architecture from 1960 to 2010. It consists of two parts: the first section providing a presentation of major movements in architecture after 1960 and the second a geographic survey that covers a wide range of territories around the world. This book not only reflects the different perspectives of its various authors but also charts a middle course between the aesthetic histories that examine architecture solely in terms of its formal aspects and the more ideological histories that subject it to a critique that often skirts the discussion of its formal aspects.

"Symbolic Essence" and Other Writings on Modern Architecture and American Culture William H. Jordy, University Professor of Art William H. Jordy, Mardges Bacon, 2005-01-01. The Symbolic Essence of Modern European Architecture of the Twenties and Its Continuing Influence: this collection contains critical writings on works by Mies Corbusier Kahn and Venturi as well as one previously unpublished text. Jordy leads readers to discover important connections of architecture with art literature intellectual history symbolic structures social purpose and community. He significantly shaped the way we understand the character and meaning of modern architecture and American culture.

Nelson Goodman and Modern Architecture Kasper Lægning, 2024-07-19. This book orchestrates a convergence of two discourses from the 1960s: Nelson Goodman's aesthetic theory on one side and critiques of modern architecture articulated by figures like Peter Blake Charles Jencks and Robert Venturi Denise Scott Brown on the other. Grounded in Goodman's aesthetic theory, the book explores his conceptual framework within the context of modern architecture. At the heart of the investigation lies Goodman's concept of exemplification. While his notion of denotation pertains to representational elements often ornaments in architecture, exemplification accentuates specific formal properties at the expense of others including color spatial orientation transparency seriality and the like. Supplemented by findings from phenomenology, the book traces these effects in buildings notably those by Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Walter Gropius Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright, all key figures in the critiques of modern architecture. Employing Goodman's framework, the book aims to address accusations of emptiness and alienation directed at modern architecture in the postwar era. It illustrates that modern architecture symbolizes aesthetically in a fundamentally different way than architecture from earlier periods. This book will be of interest to architects artists researchers and students in architecture architectural history theory cultural theory philosophy and aesthetics.

Modern Architecture and Climate Daniel A. Barber, 2023-04-11. How climate influenced the design strategies of modernist architects. Modern Architecture and Climate explores how leading architects of the twentieth century incorporated climate mediating strategies into their designs and shows how regional approaches to climate adaptability were essential to the development of modern architecture. Focusing on the period surrounding World War II before fossil fuel powered air conditioning became widely available, Daniel Barber brings to light a vibrant and dynamic architectural discussion involving design materials and shading systems as means of interior climate control. He looks at projects by well known architects such as Richard Neutra, Le Corbusier, Lúcio Costa, Mies van der Rohe and Skidmore, Owings and Merrill and the work of climate focused architects such as MMM, Roberto Olgyay and Olgyay and Cliff May. Drawing on the editorial projects of James Marston Fitch, Elizabeth Gordon and others, he demonstrates how images and diagrams produced by architects helped conceptualize climate knowledge alongside the work of meteorologists, physicists, engineers and social scientists. Barber describes how this novel type of environmental media catalyzed new ways of thinking about climate and architectural design. Extensively illustrated with archival material, Modern Architecture and Climate provides global perspectives on modern architecture and its evolving relationship with a changing climate, showcasing designs from Latin America, Europe, the United States, the Middle East and Africa. This timely and important book reconciles the cultural dynamism of architecture with the material realities of ever increasing carbon emissions from the mechanical cooling systems of buildings and offers a historical foundation for today's zero carbon design.
