Capitalism and Classical Social Theory, Third Edition

John A. Bratton, David Denham, 2019-05-09 In this third edition of Capitalism and Classical Social Theory John Bratton and David Denham build on the classical triumvirate Karl Marx, Emile Durkheim and Max Weber by extending the conversation to include early female theorists such as Mary Wollstonecraft and Charlotte Perkins Gilman as well as the writings of W E B Du Bois and G H Mead Connecting current headlines in the political mainstream to concepts like alienation anomie class gender race and the environment Capitalism and Classical Social Theory sheds light on how classical social theories may be applied and understood within a contemporary context This revised and expanded third edition features topical discussions of socio economic shifts in the post Trump and post Brexit world and uses original excerpts and additional readings to further contextualize the significance of classical social theory today

Giddens and Politics beyond the Third Way P.

Kolarz, 2016-04-25 Assessing the political dimensions of Anthony Giddens work from the 1970s to the present this book highlights new directions for politics distinct from his Third Way Kolarz provides an assessment of Giddens political relevance and utility for present day political endeavours reflecting on the approach to critical social theory found in his early work notably his theory of structuration and critique of historical materialism and his consequent utopian realist analysis of late modernity Giddens and Politics beyond the Third Way extracts from his work a rationale for global redistributive action as well as an integrative approach to policymaking suggesting that coherence of centre left emancipatory politics requires coordination of policy areas previously thought of as separate

Socially-critical Environmental Education in Primary Classrooms Jane Edwards, 2015-10-26 The effectiveness of Education for Sustainable Development depends on the ability of schools and teachers to embrace pedagogies that reduce the gap between the rhetoric of education for the environment and the reality of classroom practices This book responds to the need to better understand the nature of the relationships between agency and structure that contribute to the development of educational rhetoric reality gaps in order to inform processes that most effectively facilitate pedagogical change This book explores the issues of pedagogical change through the experiences of Australian primary school teachers faced with the challenge of implementing an environmental education program in which young students were positioned as active participants in the social processes from which environmentally sustainable practices could be developed These teachers were required to adopt pedagogies that often represented the antithesis of their well established teacher directed approaches Through the use of Anthony Giddens Theory of Structuration this book provides unique perspectives of the teacher mediated manner in which certain elements of structure and agency interrelate to enable and constrain classroom practices essential understandings for school principals and educational policy developers who aim to effectively implement pedagogical change This book also demonstrates that the Theory of Structuration provides a valuable ontological research framework and provides social researchers with practical guidance for how to relate this theory to specific research issues

With the Benefit of Hindsight John Wanna, Sam Vincent, Andrew Podger, 2012-04-01 This collection brings together the valedictory speeches and essays from a departing group of secretaries and one or two other equivalent agency heads who left the Australian Public Service between 2004 and 2011
