Introduction (Anthropology and the Colonial Encounter) Talal Asad, Fieldwork as a "Colonial Encounter"?
The Impact and Dynamics of Fieldwork Timothy McGlinchey, 2016-05-30 Essay from the year 2015 in the subject Ethnology Cultural Anthropology grade 1 0 Queen s University Belfast School of History and Anthropology course Social Anthropology language English abstract I will explore the impact and dynamics of fieldwork in various settings and seek to illustrate the extent to which the process itself resembles a colonial encounter Before doing so however initial foundations must be laid through the clarification of terms and detailing of context Concerning the role and significance of fieldwork within the context of colonialism there remains considerable debate as well as subjective interpretation in light of its ambiguous contribution to the colonial objective and the motivations behind its implementation Powers of the Secular

Modern David Scott, Charles Hirschkind, 2006 This book presents a set of critical engagements by writers from a variety of disciplines with the work of noted anthropologist Talal Asad The Routledge Handbook of Science and Empire Andrew Goss, 2021-07-05 The Routledge Handbook of Science and Empire introduces readers to important new research in the field of science and empire This compilation of inquiry into the inextricably intertwined history of science and empire reframes the field showing that one could not have grown without the other The volume expands the history of science through careful attention to connections exchanges and networks beyond the scientific institutions of Europe and the United States These 27 original essays by established scholars and new talent examine scientific and imperial disciplines networks of science scientific practice within empires and decolonised science The chapters cover a wide range of disciplines from anthropology and psychiatry to biology and geology There is global coverage with essays about China Southeast Asia the Pacific Australia and New Zealand India the Middle East Russia the Arctic and North and South America Specialised essays cover Jesuit science natural history collecting energy systems and science in UNESCO With authoritative chapters by leading scholars this is a guiding resource for all scholars of empire and science Free of jargon and with clearly written essays the handbook is a valuable path to further inquiry for any student of the history of science and empire The Ethnography of Vietnam's Central Highlanders Oscar Salemink, 2019-10-18 This book looks at ethnographic discourses concerning the indigenous population of Vietnam's Central Highlands during periods of christianization colonization war and socialist transformation and analyses these in their relation to tribal ethnic territorial governmental and gendered discourses Salemink's book is a timely contribution to anthropological knowledge as the ethnic minorities in Vietnam have again been the object of fierce academic debate This is a historically grounded post colonial critique relevant to theories of ethnicity and the history of anthropology and will be of interest to graduate students of anthropology and cultural studies as well as Vietnam studies
