Building Feminist Movements and Organizations Lydia Alpízar Durán,Noël D. Payne,Anahi Russo,2008-02-29 The struggle for the advancement of women s rights and gender equality globally is impossible without strong women s organizations and movements to provide leadership and momentum But what does a strong women s organization look like And what does it take to create effective and sustainable women s movements This groundbreaking collection of essays by activists from all corners of the globe explores what it means to be an influential women s organization and what it takes to build the kinds of movements needed to transform women s lives From how to build successful participatory democratic processes and implement shared leadership models to lessons on overcoming internal organizational divisions the case studies in this collection focus not only on the what but also the how of movement building Those concerned with how to effect sustainable change will find not only much food for thought but also an abundance of creative ideas and innovative strategies served up with a uniquely feminist twist

From Cape Town to Kabul Penelope Andrews,2016-04-15 Using her experience of living under apartheid and witnessing its downfall and the subsequent creation of new governments in South Africa the author examines and compares gender inequality in societies undergoing political and economic transformation By applying this process of legal transformation as a paradigm the author applies this model to Afghanistan These two societies serve as counterpoints through which the book engages in a nuanced and novel way with the many broader issues that flow from the attempts in newly democratic societies to give effect to the promise of gender equality Developing the idea of conditional interdependence the book suggests a new approach based on the communitarian values which underpin newly democratic societies and would allow women s rights to gain momentum and reap greater benefits Broad in its thematic approach the book generates challenging and complex questions about the achievement of gender equality It will be of interest to academics interested in gender and human rights international and comparative law

Gender Training Lucy Ferguson, 2018-06-05 This book develops a case for feminist gender training as a catalyst for disjuncture rupture and change Chapter 1 traces the historical development and current contours of the field of gender training In Chapter 2 the key critiques of gender training are substantively engaged with from the perspective of reflexive practice highlighting the need to work strategically within existing constraints Questions of transformative change are addressed in Chapter 3 which reviews feminist approaches to change and how these can be applied to enhance the impact of gender training Chapter 4 considers the theory and practice of feminist pedagogies in gender training In the final chapter new avenues for gender training are explored working with privilege engaging with applied theatre and mindfulness meditation The study takes gender training beyond its often technocratic form towards a creative liberating process with the potential to evoke tangible lasting transformation for gender equality

Turkey and the Politics of National Identity Shane Brennan, Marc Herzog, 2014-09-19 In the first decade of the twenty first century Turkey experienced an extraordinary set of transformations In 2001 in the midst of financial difficulties the country was under IMF stewardship yet it has recently emerged as one of the fastest growing economies in the world And on the international stage Turkey has managed to enhance its position from being a backseat NATO member and outside candidate for EU membership to being an influential regional power determining and developing its own individual foreign policy Shane Brennan and Marc Herzog explore how these and other changes have shaped the way people in Turkey perceive themselves and how the country's self image shapes its actions In the modern age the sovereign nation state still continues to be one of the basic building blocks of social or political identity The Turkish Republic founded in 1923 is a good example In weaving together and selecting certain elements of memory myth tradition and symbols the narratives of national identity in Turkey have been to a large extent socially constructed This volume offers analysis of the ways in which these narratives have been created maintained and negotiated and how current economic and political interests have been incorporated into the construction of a modern identity External forces such as those of cultural and economic globalisation have also been influential agents in this process As a result the space and opportunity for social and cultural expression has increasingly widened while alternative identities and life style choices at both the collective and individual levels have also become more visible Bearing this in mind this book examines issues such as those of alternative gender identity and sexual orientation formerly taboo issues Through different approaches engaging with politics economy society culture and history Turkey and the Politics of National Identity offers new perspectives on the transformation of national identity in this increasingly influential country in the Middle East
