Beloved Dust Robert Davis Hughes, III, 2008-08-15 There has been an explosion of interest in classical Christian spirituality over the past 50 years While a great deal of work has been done on the history of Christian spirituality there has been no full scale theological and pastoral treatment of Christian spiritual life since before the Second Vatican Council Beloved Dust takes a realistic contemporary view of human being as entirely physical dust and shows it immersed in three great tides of the Holy Spirit the traditional threefold rhythm of conversion transfiguration and glory What is unique about Robert Hughes's approach is the effort to root spiritual theology in the doctrine of the Spirit an outgrowth of the renewed interest in the Trinity among both Catholics Karl Rahner and Protestants Robert Jenson Also striking is Hughes's emphasis on ordinary life Here as a married Episcopal priest theologian who brings a distinctly Protestant perspective to a traditionally Catholic enterprise for so long the preserve of celibate priests What he achieves is a new presentation of the traditional teaching in the light of contemporary knowledge and practice

Understanding Religious Conversion Dong Young Kim, 2012-07-20 Understanding Religious Conversion begins with emphasis on the value of respecting religious theological interpretations of conversion while coordinating social scientific studies of how personal social and cultural issues are relevant to the human transformational process It encourages us to bring together the perspectives of psychology sociology anthropology and religious studies into critical and mutually informing conversation for establishing a richer and more accurate perception of the complex phenomenon of religious conversion The case of St Augustine's conversion experience superbly illustrates the complicated and multidimensional process of religious change By critically extending the contributions of the literature within Lewis Rambo's interdisciplinary framework Dong Young Kim presents a more integrated picture of how personal social cultural and religious theological components interact with one another in the process of Augustine's conversion In doing so he has struggled with how to relocate more effectively and practically the conversion narrative of Augustine within the context of pastoral care and ministry and the field of the academy in order to facilitate a better understanding of the conversion stories of the church members as well as to enhance the experiences of religious conversion within the Christian community
