Adoption and Loss - The Hidden Grief Evelyn Robinson, 2000-09-01 Based on the author's personal experience as a mother who lost a child through adoption and her experience as a social worker who has worked extensively in the area of post adoption counselling with adults this resource graphically describes the disenfranchised grief associated with adoption and suggests ways in which that hidden grief can be acknowledged and confronted Grieving Reproductive Loss Kathleen Gray, Anne Lassance, 2018-10-26 Grieving Reproductive Loss The Healing Process acknowledges the devastating impact these losses can have Written in plain language the book attempts to bring about a greater understanding of the grief associated with reproductive loss and through the Healing Process Model copyright offers a holistic approach for constructive healthy grieving and healing of body mind and spirit

Adoption and Loss Evelyn Burns Robinson, 2018 What becomes of women who give up their children for adoption Why do so many adopted people feel a desire to seek out their birth families These and many other queries are answered in this new and updated 21st century edition of Adoption and loss Adopted

Women and Biological Fathers Elizabeth Hughes, 2017-03-01 Adopted Women and Biological Fathers offers a critical and deconstructive challenge to the dominant notions of adoptive identity The author explores adoptive women's experiences of meeting their biological fathers and reflects on personal narratives to give an authoritative overview of both the field of adoption and the specific history of adoption reunion This book takes as its focus the narratives of 14 adopted women as well as the partly fictionalised story of the author and examines their experiences of birth father reunion in an attempt to dissect the ways in which we understand adoptive female subjectivity through a psychosocial lens Opening a space for thinking about the role of the discursively neglected biological father this book exposes the enigmatic dimensions of this figure and how telling the relational story of reconciliation might be used to complicate wider categories of subjective completeness belonging and truth This book attempts to subvert the culturally normative unifying system of the mother child bond and prompts the reader to think about what the biological father might represent and how his role in relation to adoptive female subjects may be understood This book will be essential reading for those in critical psychology gender studies narrative work sociology and psychosocial studies as well as appealing to anyone interested in adoption issues and female subjectivity

International Advances in Adoption Research for Practice Gretchen Miller Wrobel, Elsbeth Neil, 2009-01-12 This is a unique compilation of cross cultural and international attitudes towards adoption research and outcomes Whilst informal adoption of children has probably always existed across all human societies this work is timely in that interest in the role of legal adoption as both a child welfare solution and as a means of alternative family formation for adults wanting to become parents has never been higher This book is an edited collection of 13 papers based on invited keynote presentations or paper symposia presentations given at the Second International Conference on Adoption Research ICAR2 2006 It gives a unique Cross cultural look at adoption from worldwide multidisciplinary community of distinguished and emerging adoption researchers International appeal with different countries laws attitudes and outcomes fully explored After Adoption Janette Logan,Carole Smith,2013-01-11 Few children nowadays are placed for adoption with no form of contact planned with birth relatives and it has become common professional practice to advocate direct rather than indirect contact Practice has outstripped evidence in this respect and not enough is known about how contact arrangements actually work out particularly for older children adopted from state care Such children have often experienced neglect and sometimes abuse and have frequently been adopted without parental agreement Based on research with a large number of adoptive parents children and birth relatives After Adoption considers the impact of direct post adoption contact on all concerned in such cases It also discusses the development of adoption policy and law particularly with regard to the legal and social consequences reviews the research evidence on adopted children s contact with their birth families explores through interviews participants feelings about adoption and direct contact their relationships with each other what hinders and what helps After Adoption challenges readers to re think the relationship between adoption and the possibility of direct post adoption contact and at the same time provides a comprehensive understanding of adoption issues It is a timely and valuable addition to the literature on adoption making a substantial contribution to policy and practice Adopted Brigitta Baker,Jo Willis,2022-08-11 To not know your family story is a huge loss of your sense of self It has the potential to undermine your well being and your relationships across a lifetime Adopted is the powerful and honest account of two of the thousands of children affected by closed adoption in New Zealand from 1950 to the mid 1970s Jo Willis and Brigitta Baker both sought and found their respective birth parents at different stages of their lives and have become advocates for other adopted New Zealanders They share the complexity of that journey the emotional challenges they faced and the ongoing impacts of their adoptions with candor and courage Closed adoption also exacts a physical and emotional toll on birth parents partners and children Their stories are also told in this compelling book Grief Is a Journey Kenneth J. Doka,2017-04-18 Doka explores a new compassionate way to grieve as he explains that grief is not an illness to get over but an individual and ongoing journey He upends the dominant but incorrect view that grief proceeds by stages and helps us realize that our experiences following a death are far more individual and much less predictable than the conventional five stages model would have us believe Doka also explains how to cope with disenfranchised grief not so readily recognized or supported by society such as the death of ex spouses the end of a friendship job loss or infertility Working with Children and Families Robert Adams,2011-10-25 Across 30 chapters a team of experienced teachers and practitioners introduce the fundamental professional issues concerning children young people and their families in the 21st century Working with Children and Families explores the diverse contexts in which children develop and the policies and practices that directly affect them essential knowledge for effective practice Offering a multidisciplinary approach this inclusive text gives a broad range of perspectives to support the study of children and childhood Take a look inside to discover more about Key policies and agendas introduces the policies agendas and government guidance that serve as the foundation of children's services Contemporary issues tackles complex topics such as anti discriminatory and ethical practice child protection and safeguarding Reflective practice offers reflective activities throughout to help you engage understand and apply knowledge in practice Diversity helps you understand the variety of backgrounds and experiences children may have from sociological psychological educational and cultural perspectives Integrative working focuses holistically on the child rather than on specific professional approaches offering insight into important themes in all areas of work with children This text offers a broad basis from which to launch into any area of work or study involving children including early years social work education social policy nursing sociology and childhood studies It is great introductory reading for foundation and undergraduate degree level students

Becoming a Mother Mari Gallagher, 2018-12-28 Becoming a Mother is the first book published in Ireland exploring the complexity of adoption from the perspective of an adoptive parent It draws on a combination of seminal and modern texts and personal memoir to present a unique view of what it means to be an adoptive parent in Ireland today The book has a particular focus on intercountry adoptive parenting and also looks at adoption from the viewpoints of the adopted person and birth parent A dearth of literature exploring adoption exists on Irish bookshelves Becoming a Mother seeks to fill that void by exploring issues around the topic of adoption the secrecy and silence that still pervades adoption the primal desire to parent that drives adoptive parenting the tumultuousness of search and reunion and more It includes shared experiences and tips on bonding with the adopted child as well as a look at parenthood for the adopted person Becoming a Mother will be of interest to the estimated 10 per cent of the Irish population connected to adoption in some way including the 5 000 children who were adopted from abroad The book has been included as essential reading on preparatory courses for prospective adoptive parents and also on Barnardos post adoptive service reading list
