Adoptive Foster Parent Screening Professional:

Adoptive and Foster Parent Screening James L. Dickerson, Mardi Allen, 2012-10-12 Screening applicants for adoption or foster homes has life altering consequences for the children involved yet there are incredibly few programs available to train screeners The educational system that certifies thousands of social workers each year does not understand the specialized training required to screen adoptive and foster parents social work schools provide minimal interview training and what training they do provide focuses on therapeutic interview techniques rather than screening skills There is a clear need for a book like Adoptive and Foster Parent Screening one that can be incorporated into course requirements and used by working social workers and psychologists involved with adoption and foster parent screening Adoptive and Foster Parent Screening written by a former social worker who has placed hundreds of children into adoptive and foster homes and a clinical psychologist meshes the best of psychology and social work experience into a definitive guide for screening adoption and foster home applicants The book provides information on evaluating aberrant behavior and unhealthy parenting attitudes interview techniques psychological testing Adoptive and Foster Parent Screening is based on case histories research data and interpretive analysis The book is written in an accessible style free of technical language thus making it appropriate for college level students and professionals who don t have time to sift through empirical data to obtain accessible information that they can adapt to their profession Screening Adoptive and Foster Parents James L. Dickerson, Mardi Allen, 2022-11 Screening Adoptive and Foster Parents A Guide for Students and Professionals combines the best of psychology and social work experience into a definitive guide for screening adoption and foster home applicants Based on professional experience and research data this book provides information on evaluating unhealthy parenting attitudes interview techniques and psychological testing Advocating for Children in Foster and Kinship Care Mitchell Rosenwald, Beth N. Riley, 2010-03-11 This book is the first to provide strategies for effective advocacy and placement within the foster care and kinship care systems It also takes a rare look at the dynamics of the foster and kinship relationship not just among children and the agency workers and service providers who intervene on their behalf but also between children and those who take in and care for them as permanency develops Drawing on their experience interacting with and writing about the institution of foster care Mitchell Rosenwald and Beth N Riley have composed a unique text that helps practitioners foster parents and relative caregivers realize successful transitions for youth especially considering the traumas these children may suffer both before and after placement Advocating for a child s best interests must begin early and remain consistent throughout assignment and adjustment For practitioners Rosenwald and Riley emphasize the best techniques for assessing a family s capabilities and for guiding families through the challenges of foster care Part one details the steps potential foster parents and kinship caregivers must take with the assistance of practitioners to prepare themselves for placement Part two describes tactics for successful advocacy within the court system social service agencies schools and the medical and mental health establishments Part three describes how to lobby for change at the agency and legislative levels as well as within a given community The authors illustrate recommendations through real life scenarios and devote an entire chapter to brokering positive partnerships among practitioners families and other teams working to protect and transition children

Adoption Resources for Mental Health Professionals Pamela V. Grabe, This text is designed to support mental health professionals who work with aspecific group of children those who have lived in foster care those who have moved from one substitute home to another and those who must survive repeated loss of contact with people they trust and love Because of increased efforts to find permanent homes for these children many more have been brought to the attention of clinicians The background and problems of these children differ significantly from those of children who have not experienced separation and loss This book is intended to provide guidance to professionals who are trying to assess and treat children in foster care or adoptive situations The editors provide an overview of how the child welfare system DEGREES affects the children and parents therapy that can be used and basic definition of terms The 23 contributors include professionals with extensive teaching and practical experience in the field This book will be a basic source for mental health professionals In the field of adoption
