Labour Relations in the Global Fast-Food Industry Tony Royle, Brian Towers, 2004-08-02 The fast food industry is one of the few industries that can be described as truly global not least in terms of employment which is estimated at around ten million people worldwide This edited volume is the first of its kind providing an analysis of labour relations in this significant industry focusing on multinational corporations and large national companies in ten countries the USA Canada the UK the Netherlands Germany Australia New Zealand Singapore and Russia The extent to which multinational enterprises impose or adapt their employment practices in differing national industrial relations systems is analysed Results reveal that the global fast food industry is typified by trade union exclusion high labour turnover unskilled work paternalistic management regimes and work organization that allows little scope for developing workers participation in decision making let alone advocating widely accepted concepts of social justice and workers rights along for the ride enodia williams, 100 Weirdest Tales from Across Australia Ben Pobjie,2023-07-25 Tales of the strange unnerving and downright bizarre from one of the weirdest places on Earth Fish falling out of the sky joggers relieving themselves on your doorstep mysterious monsters constantly springing from the shadows spooky lights and ill conceived toast spreads these are just some of the things you can expect on any given day in our surreal southern land In 100 Weirdest Tales from Across Australia comedy writer and accredited weirdness expert Ben Pobjie delves deep into Australia s past and present to serve up the weirdest stories of all which will leave you smacking your gob with one hand while scratching your head with the other Hamburger Andrew F. Smith,2008-10-15 Andrew F Smith traces the history of the hamburger history from its humble beginnings as a nineteenth century American street food to its present status as one of the world s favourite dishes Franchising in the Economy , China's Agricultural Investment in Australia Michaela Boehme,2024-10-25 This book critically examines the driving forces discourses and conflicts surrounding Chinese investments in overseas farmland with a specific focus on Australia With growing amounts of finance channeled into the purchase of overseas food and farming assets China has become a frontrunner in the global land rush Unlike much of the existing literature that focuses on emerging economies such as Brazil or Africa this book examines Chinese farmland purchases in the developed country context of Australia Based on four years of extensive field work in Australia and China it traces the encounters and interactions between investors regulators deal brokers farmers and eaters that shape the ways in which individual Chinese investment projects materialize in the Australian countryside In contrast to conventional wisdom portraying China s overseas land rush as a state led strategy to feed the Chinese population this book reveals that Chinese investments in Australian farmland have been propelled by the intersecting interests of international finance and business elites looking to cash in on booming Chinese demand for high quality Western food products This book provides a unique transnational perspective on China s overseas farmland purchases and shows how Chinese farmland investments produce uneven geographies of agri food globalization that cut across national borders Through the lens of China s agri engagement in Australia this book advances our theoretical understanding of the new types of power relations and dynamics shaping an increasingly multi polar agri food system This book will be useful to students and scholars of agri food studies Chinese studies and globalization with an interest in the global land rush and the shifting contours of the global agri food system The City and the Sea Wes Goff,2008-02 From Arab drylands to tropical islands from Somalia to Australia Tijuana to Okinawa Chicago to San Diego and Great Lakes to Kuwait The City and the Sea is the often humorous memoir of a young sailor who finally sees the things that exist outside of his small hometown in Missouri He witnesses these new places during a time when it seemed like the world was changing And at the same time it occurs at an age when he notices changes in himself Wes Goff grew up in Fulton Missouri He has written humor columns for publications in Wyoming and South Korea His first book was The Backroad Legends of Callaway County His novella Me and Billy the Kid 91 is available as an e book at www.backroadlegends.com He can be contacted at callawaycryptids2002@yahoo.com

Crisis Communication in a Digital World Mark Sheehan, Deirdre Quinn-Allan, 2015-04-15 Crisis Communication in a Digital World provides an introduction to major crisis communication theories and issues management using practical examples from Australia and New Zealand The book examines how public relations can influence the nature of a crisis and the impact of its aftermath It explores the role of PR specialists in different crisis situations including natural disasters and morphing crises and examines the challenges they face in a world where social media is a key source of communication Readers are provided with an in depth understanding of crisis communication and issues management through practical approaches strategies and skills which are supplemented by relevant theories based on evidence and experience International perspectives have been included throughout to illustrate the impact of multinational companies on the digital world including global media cycles and social media activism Each chapter explores a different aspect of communications including media natural disasters and celebrity crises
