Aesthetics Spirits Literature Interdisziplinär Interdisziplinär:

Naiṇī mātā - Cobra Mum Gerrit Lange, 2025-08-04 Nai or Ngin is the name of nine Hindu goddesses who rule over nine villages of Pindar valley in the Indian Himalaya. Seven of these goddesses establish the rule over their territory through a half-year long journey yearly during which they are carried around embodied in the shape of a bamboo pole. To start such a journey a Nai has to be literally unearthed: a clay pot is taken from under the ground which means that she is brought up from Niglok, the underworld of serpent deities. Through their yearly trips the Nais re-establish their family ties to the women of their respective village who have married into other villages. The explicit goal of the rituals, festivals and processions devoted to the Nais is to make them happy and to ease their anger about a lack of worship. Thus the question what a Nai feels is at the core of their religion. This study approaches this evasive topic from two angles: the emotions named when people tell about her and the feelings displayed in ritual interactions with her. The wide array of feelings unearthed in this sense shows that asking about nonhuman emotions can contribute to our understanding of religion in general. Index to Book Reviews in Religion, 1989
