Albatross Their World Their Ways:

Albatross Tui De Roy, Julian Fitter, Mark Jones, 2008 Looks at what is known about the albatross a bird of legend and poetry and examines the conditions that are threatening over three quarters of all albatross species with extinction

Albatross Tui De Roy, 2008 The albatross is a creature of legend poetry and dreams But today over three quarters of albatross species are edging towards extinction This book is a celebration of these amazing birds featuring photographs by award winning wildlife photographer Tui De Roy the latest research by leading international experts and a factual natural history

Flight Ways Thom van Dooren, 2014-06-03 A leading figure in the emerging field of extinction studies Thom van Dooren puts philosophy into conversation with the natural sciences and his ethnographic encounters to vivify the cultural and ethical significance of modern day extinctions Unlike other meditations on the subject Flight Ways incorporates the particularities of real animals and their worlds drawing philosophers natural scientists and general readers into the experience of living among and losing biodiversity Each chapter of Flight Ways focuses on a different species or group of birds North Pacific albatrosses Indian vultures an endangered colony of penguins in Australia Hawaiian crows and the iconic whooping cranes of North America Written in eloquent and moving prose the book takes stock of what is lost when a life form disappears from the world the wide ranging ramifications that ripple out to implicate a number of human and more than human others Van Dooren intimately explores what life is like for those who must live on the edge of extinction balanced between life and oblivion taking care of their young and grieving their dead He bolsters his studies with real life accounts from scientists and local communities at the forefront of these developments No longer abstract entities with Latin names these species become fully realized characters enmeshed in complex and precarious ways of life sparking our sense of curiosity concern and accountability toward others in a rapidly changing world
