Animals In Heaven Catholics Want To Know:

Animals in Heaven? Susi Pittman, 2009-11-05 It is always hard to say good bye As Catholics we know that our human loved ones are called by Christ to join Him in eternity dwelling in heavenly bliss before God enlightened by the light of glory sharing in the fullness of the eternal life Christ has prepared for us But what about our pets and the animals that fill the earth and our lives with such special beauty Does God have a place for them Where do animals go when they die Are they just dust What is the destiny of creation Does God really care about any of creation besides man Would God the Author of all life cast the non human creation He called good into nothingness Isn t it illogical to believe that God would find worthless that which is hard wired to give Him praise Is it so hard to understand that animals created by God with a particular good would not also have knowledge of their Creator It is a universal concern for stewards of creation who in their humanness consider such questions in their hearts I write this book as a way to explore tenets of the Catholic faith that address creation of bringng insight and spiritual truths to animal lovers and lovers of creation and as evidential support of the truth that all creation was given its order time place and purpose from its Creator who sustains and preserves it at all times always

A Heaven for Animals Christopher Steck, 2025-09-02 A transformative perspective on animal afterlife bridging theological reflection and moral action What happens to our beloved companion animals after death Do they and other animals have a place in the divine plan A Heaven for Animals offers a groundbreaking theological rationale for the inclusion of animals in heaven challenging conventional thinking about the role animals have in God s plan Based on Biblical evidence and the doctrine of the Catholic Church Christopher Steck reveals a radical vision of divine grace that extends far beyond human centric perspectives demonstrating how animals are intrinsically part of Christ s redemptive work Accessible to both theological scholars and thoughtful readers seeking deeper spiritual insights this book provides a rigorous and compassionate framework for understanding the sacredness of all creation and the creatures within it A Heaven for Animals invites readers to reimagine their ethical responsibilities suggesting that our treatment of animals should strive to reflect an anticipatory vision of God s inclusive kingdom a transformative perspective that bridges theological reflection and moral action

Animals and Society Margo DeMello, 2012-08-21 Considering that much of human society is structured through its interaction with non human animals and since human society relies heavily on the exploitation of animals to serve human needs human animal studies has become a rapidly expanding field of research featuring a number of distinct positions perspectives and theories that require nuanced explanation and contextualization The first book to provide a full overview of human animal studies this volume focuses on the conceptual construction of animals in American culture and the way in which it reinforces and perpetuates hierarchical human relationships rooted in racism sexism and class privilege Margo DeMello considers interactions between humans and animals within the family the law the religious and political system and other major social institutions and she unpacks the different identities humans fashion for themselves and for others through animals Essays also cover speciesism and evolutionary continuities the role and preservation of animals in the wild the debate over zoos and the use of animals in sports domestication agricultural practices such as factory farming vivisection animal cruelty animal activism the representation of animals in literature and film and animal ethics Sidebars highlight contemporary controversies and issues with recommendations for additional reading educational films and related websites DeMello concludes with an analysis of major philosophical positions on human social policy and the future of human animal relations Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C. Desmond, 2016-08-18 The number of ways in which humans interact with animals is almost incalculable From beloved household pets to the steak on our dinner tables the fur in our closets to the Babar books on our shelves taxidermy exhibits to local zoos humans have complex deep and dependent relationships with the animals in our ecosystems In Displaying Death and Animating Life Jane C. Desmond puts those human animal relationships under a multidisciplinary lens focusing on the less obvious and revealing the individualities and subjectivities of the real animals in our everyday lives Desmond a pioneer in the field of animal studies builds the book on a number of case studies She conducts research on site at major museums taxidermy conventions pet cemeteries and even at a professional conference for writers of obituaries She goes behind the scenes at zoos wildlife clinics and meetings of pet cemetery professionals We journey with her as she meets Kanzi the bonobo artist and a host of other animal artists all of whom are preparing their artwork for auction Throughout Desmond moves from a consideration of the visual display of unindividuated animals to mourning for known animals and finally to the marketing of artwork by individual animals The first book in the new Animal Lives series Displaying Death and Animating Life is a landmark study bridging disciplines and reaching across divisions from the humanities and social sciences to chart new territories of investigation
