Abstract. Staphylococcus aureus is a common cause of nosocomial infections. The purpose of this study was to determine the prevalence of S. aureus in the hospital environment. A total of 100 samples were collected from the hospital environment, including 50 from the intensive care unit (ICU) and 50 from the general ward. The results showed that the prevalence of S. aureus was 60% in the ICU and 40% in the general ward. The study also found that the majority of the isolates were susceptible to all antibiotics tested, except for methicillin and vancomycin. These findings suggest that S. aureus is a significant cause of nosocomial infections in the hospital environment, and that the use of antibiotics should be carefully monitored to prevent the development of resistance.
