bold new approach to language that addresses the subtleties of cultural identity The Appropriation of Media in Everyday Life Ruth Ayaß, Cornelia Gerhardt, 2012-09-11 This volume contributes to the burgeoning field of interactional linguistic media studies. It focuses on how people appropriate media in their daily lives. Thus here it is not the talk in the medium itself but naturally occurring interactions in different media reception situations that are analysed. The idea that media function like a hypodermic needle injecting messages into the masses has long been questioned. Still the actual moment when people use media in their daily lives has largely been ignored in media studies. This book analyses the minutiae of the moment when people actively appropriate media for their own purposes in different fashions. The reception communities analysed include families watching television, girls gossiping about a talent show, teenagers playing video games, a team of fire men implementing a new medium in their workplace, radio listeners, phone ins and others. The languages studied comprise English, German, French, Swedish and Finnish. Translating Cultures Abraham Rosman, Paula G. Rubel, 2020-06-15 The task of the anthropologist is to take ideas, concepts and beliefs from one culture and translate them into first another language and then into the language of anthropology. This process is both fascinating and complex. Not only does it raise questions about the limitations of language but it also challenges the ability of the anthropologist to communicate culture accurately. In recent years postmodern theories have tended to call into question the legitimacy of translation altogether. This book acknowledges the problems involved but shows definitively that translating cultures can successfully be achieved. The way we talk, write, read and interpret are all part of a translation process. Many of us are not aware of translation in our everyday lives but for those living outside their native culture surrounded by cultural difference the ability to translate experiences and thoughts becomes a major issue. Drawing on case studies and theories from a wide range of disciplines including anthropology, philosophy, linguistics, art history, folk theory and religious studies, this book systematically interrogates the meaning, complexities and importance of translation in anthropology and answers a wide range of provocative questions such as: Can we unravel the true meaning of the Christian doctrine of trinity when there have been so many translations? What impact do colonial and postcolonial power structures have on our understanding of other cultures? How can we use art as a means of transgressing the limitations of linguistic translation? Translating Cultures: Perspectives on Translation and Anthropology is the first book fully to address translation in anthropology. It combines textual and ethnographic analysis to produce a benchmark publication that will be of great importance to anthropologists, philosophers, linguists, historians and cultural theorists alike. Linguistic Relativities John Leavitt, 2010-12-23 There are more than six thousand human languages, each one unique. For the last five hundred years people have argued about how important language differences are This book traces that history and shows how language differences have generally been treated either as of no importance or as all important depending on broader approaches taken to human life and knowledge It was only in the twentieth century in the work of Franz Boas and his students that an attempt was made to engage seriously with the reality of language specificities Since the 1950s this work has been largely presented as yet another claim that language differences are all important by cognitive scientists and philosophers who believe that such differences are of no importance This book seeks to correct this misrepresentation and point to the new directions taken by the Boasians directions now being recovered in the most recent work in psychology and linguistics

Conversational Style Deborah Tannen, 2005-07-21 This revised edition of Deborah Tannen's first discourse analysis book Conversational Style first published in 1984 presents an approach to analyzing conversation that later became the hallmark and foundation of her extensive body of work in discourse analysis including the monograph Talking Voices as well as her well known popular books You Just Don't Understand That's Not What I Meant and Talking from 9 to 5 among others Carefully examining the discourse of six speakers over the course of a two and a half hour Thanksgiving dinner conversation Tannen analyzes the features that make up the speakers conversational styles and in particular how aspects of what she calls a high involvement style have a positive effect when used with others who share the style but a negative effect with those whose styles differ This revised edition includes a new preface and an afterword in which Tannen discusses the book's place in the evolution of her work Conversational Style is written in an accessible and non technical style that should appeal to scholars and students of discourse analysis in fields like linguistics anthropology communication sociology and psychology as well as general readers fascinated by Tannen's popular work This book is an ideal text for use in introductory classes in linguistics and discourse analysis

The Sociology of Translation and the Politics of Sustainability John Ødemark, Åmund Norum Resløyken, Ida Lillehagen, Eivind Engebretsen, 2024-01-24 This book uses sustainability to explore the interfaces between translation studies the cultural history of knowledge and Science and Technology studies STS The volume examines various material cultural and epistemic translation practices where sustainability serves as a boundary object between natural and cultural inquiry By turning to the intellectual traditions that influenced but were left behind by STS and actor network theory ANT we aim to challenge and expand the Sociology of Translation developed in ANT Concepts such as inscription Derrida actant narrative Greimas and world worlding Heidegger Spivak were reemployed translated in the canonical STS texts What networks of meaning were left behind in this reemployment The book showcases a combination of cultural and knowledge historical perspectives on the construction of the Sociology of Translation and practical experiments across the registers of nature and culture is novel There have been brilliant individual attempts to realign the Sociology of Translation with narratives and modes of enunciation but none has related the Sociology of Translation to the networks and traditions which enabled it but to which it erased its relations and debts This innovative work will appeal to scholars in translation studies

The Materiality and Efficacy of Balinese Letters, 2016-10-05

The Materiality and Efficacy of Balinese Letters examines traditional uses of writing on the Indonesian island of Bali focusing on the power attributed to Balinese script. The approach is interdisciplinary and comparative bringing together insights from anthropological and philological perspectives. Scholars have long recognized a gap between the practices of philological interpretation and those of the Javano Balinese textual tradition. The question is what impact this gap should have on our conception of the text. Of what relevance for example are the uses to which Balinese script has been put in the context of ceremonial rites. What ideas of materiality power and agency are at work in the production and preservation of palm leaf manuscripts inscribed amulets and other script bearing instruments. Contributors include Andrea Acri Helen Creese Richard Fox H I R Hinzler Annette Hornbacher Thomas M Hunter and Margaret Wiener

Translating Worlds Carlo Severi, William F. Hanks, 2015-12-15

Set against the backdrop of anthropology's recent focus on various turns whether ontological ethical or otherwise this pathbreaking volume returns to the question of knowledge and the role of translation as a theoretical and ethnographic guide for twenty first century anthropology gathering together contributions from leading thinkers in the field. Since Ferdinand de Saussure and Franz Boas languages have been seen as systems whose differences make precise translation nearly impossible. And still others have viewed translation between languages as principally indeterminate. The contributors here argue that the challenge posed by the constant confrontation between incommensurable worlds and systems may be the most fertile ground for state of the art ethnographic theory and practice. Ranging from tourism in New Guinea to shamanism in the Amazon to the globally ubiquitous restaurant menu the contributors mix philosophy and ethnography to redefine translation not only as a key technique for understanding ethnography but as a larger principle in epistemology.
