Beyond Acting White Reframing The Debate On Black Student Achievement:

Beyond Acting White Erin McNamara Horvat, Carla O'Connor, 2006-03-02 Why do Blacks underperform in school Researchers continue to pursue this question with vigor not only because Blacks currently lag behind Whites on a wide variety of educational indices but because the closing of the Black White achievement gap has slowed and by some measures reversed during the last quarter of the 20th century The social implications of the persistent educational gap between Blacks and Whites are substantial Black people s experience with poor school achievement and equally poor access to postsecondary education reduces their probability for achieving competitive economic and social rewards and are inconsistent with repeated evidence that Black people articulate high aspirations for their own educational and social mobility Despite the social needs that press us towards making better sense of the gap we are nevertheless limited in our understanding of how race operates to affect Black students educational experiences and outcomes In Beyond Acting White we contend with one of the most oft cited explanations for Black underachievement the notion that Blacks are culturally opposed to acting White and therefore culturally opposed to succeeding in school Our book uses the acting White hypothesis as the point of departure in order to explore and evaluate how and under what conditions Black culture and identity are implicated in our understanding of why Black students continue to lag behind their White peers in educational achievement and attainment Beyond Acting White provides a response to the growing call that we more precisely situate how race its representations intersectionalities and context specific contingencies help us make better sense of the Black White achievement gap context specific contingencies help us make better sense of the Black White achievement gap

Family Engagement in Black Students' Academic Success Vilma Seeberg, 2021-03-15 This timely volume presents powerful stories told by Black families and students who have successfully negotiated a racially fraught affluent and diverse suburban school district in America to illustrate how they have strategically contested sanctioned racist practices and forged a path for students to achieve a high quality education Drawing on rich qualitative data collected through interviews and interactions with parents and kin students community activists and educators Family Engagement in Black Students Academic Success chronicles how pride in Black American family history and values students personal capabilities and their often collective proactive challenges to systemic and personal racism shape students academic engagement Familial and collective cultural wealth of the Black community emerges as a central driver in students successful achievement Finally the text puts forward key recommendations to demonstrate how incorporating the knowledge and voices of Black families in school decision making remaining critically conscious of race and racial history in everyday actions and longer term policy and pursuing collective strategies for social justice in education will help eliminate current opportunity gaps and will counteract the master narrative of underachievement ever present in America This volume will be of interest to students scholars and academics with an interest in matters of social justice equity and equality of opportunity in education for Black Americans In addition the text offers key insights for school authorities in building effective working relationships with Black American families to support the high achievement of Black students in K 12 education

Risk, Schooling, and Equity Vivian L. Gadsden, Alfredo Artiles, James E. Davis, 2009-03-15 Risk Schooling and Equity offers insights from a range of theoretical and practical viewpoints into current conceptions of risk and its effect on access to opportunity The authors challenge existing frameworks and approaches discuss how children and youth experience and live with risk in and out of school and suggest ways to reduce institutional barriers to students full engagement in school By examining risk at different levels and through different lenses the volume provides a critical look at both the issues and the venues that allow us to understand the problems that persist as well as the opportunities spaces and places for change

Race and Education Primer Aaron David Gresson, 2008 The Race and Education Primer introduces its topic as perspective policy and pedagogy It provides a thematic introduction to the guiding beliefs and major practices in the field with a special emphasis on critical recurring themes These include race and intelligence the education gap teacher education and cultural competence Approaching race and education in global context the primer covers topics of interest to both novice and advanced students A glossary and suggested readings and resources add to the volume s value for students new to the field

Researching Black Communities James S. Jackson, Cleopatra Howard Caldwell, Sherrill L Sellers, 2012-09-14 Experts from a range of disciplines offer practical advice for conducting social science research in racial and ethnic minority populations Readers will learn how to choose appropriate methods longitudinal studies national surveys quantitative analysis personal interviews and other qualitative approaches and how best to employ them for research on specific demographic groups The volume opens with a brief introduction to the difficulty of defining a population and designing a research program and then moves to illustrative examples drawn from the contributors own studies of Blacks in the United States the Caribbean and South Africa Case studies cover research on the media mental health churches work marital relationships education and family roles There's a Disco Ball Between Us Jafari Sinclair Allen, 2021-11-15 In There s a Disco Ball Between Us Jafari S Allen offers a sweeping and lively ethnographic and intellectual history of what he calls Black gay habits of mind In conversational and lyrical language Allen locates this sensibility as it emerged from radical Black lesbian activism and writing during the long 1980s He traverses multiple temporalities and locations drawing on research and fieldwork conducted across the globe from Nairobi London and Paris to Toronto Miami and Trinidad and Tobago In these locations and archives Allen traces the genealogies of Black gay politics and cultures in the visual art poetry film Black feminist theory historiography and activism of thinkers and artists such as Audre Lorde Marsha P Johnson Essex Hemphill Colin Robinson Marlon Riggs Pat Parker and Joseph Beam Throughout Allen renarrates Black queer history while cultivating a Black gay method of thinking and writing In so doing he speaks to the urgent contemporary struggles for social justice while calling on Black studies to pursue scholarship art and policy derived from the lived experience and fantasies of Black people throughout the world Eight Propositions Joe L. Rempson, 2020-11-19 Rempson takes issue with those who lay the plight of African Americans on racism not seeing it today as a major obstacle to black progress Rather he traces the origin back to what he terms the African American Garden of Eden In it W E B Dubois outlasted Booker T Washington and fathered a tradition which Rempson argues has produced a victim identity and an emphasis on the system rather than the self Only black males offer a way out he declares because it is entirely our black males who are keeping us down and curtailing our progress in contrast to black females who are doing OK They are plagued by what Rempson calls the African American Male School Adaptability Crisis AMSAC Their academic performance ranks at the bottom alone below black female students and below white Asian and Hispanic male students In large urban areas their high school dropout rate is 59 percent and nationally they lag behind in college attendance and graduation rates The outcome Rempson argues is dysfunctionality and the existence of hedonistic norms which hinder family and community stability But while black males are the problem Rempson contends it is nevertheless only they who can solve it because research and experience show that it takes males to bring up and change other males Though intended for everyone he therefore writes his book to his fellow advantaged black males and makes a passionate plea for them to step up and with the help of black females and of the nation take the lead As their guide he has formulated eight propositions Arrived at through an examination of impressively extensive data from numerous sources and disciplines they are a marked departure from the customary Most strikingly delicate matters such as those which pertain to intelligence quotient IQ and culture are openly confronted and dealt with But Rempson writes unless confronted we will not solve our problems Nor he continues can we

solve them unless we cut the umbilical cord to white America We have no right to expect it to be our savior nor are we justified in perceiving it as our oppressor Forcefully and finely written Rempson s book is a singular and courageous contribution Alone his eight propositions make it a worthy read Towards a Brighter Tomorrow Walter R. Allen, Erin Kimura-Walsh, Kimberly A. Griffin, 2009-09-01 The book aims to develop a clearer understanding of the influence of social dynamics on the educational opportunities of high school students of color in the urban setting of California s Los Angeles area Specifically we examine how students backgrounds high school experiences and own agency shape their college preparation processes and postsecondary aspirations While some research has been done on high school students college choice process this book is unique in its broad and comparative approach It examines the experiences of students across 10 schools identifying broad themes that are illustrated through specific case studies This approach allows readers to understand the broader issues that face students from underserved backgrounds as they pursue college while illuminating how these issues uniquely manifest themselves in individual school contexts Handbook on Positive Development of Minority Children and Youth Natasha J. Cabrera, Birgit Leyendecker, 2017-02-07 This Handbook presents current research on children and youth in ethnic minority families It reflects the development currently taking place in the field of social sciences research to highlight the positive adaptation of minority children and youth It offers a succinct synthesis of where the field is and where it needs to go It brings together an international group of leading researchers and in view of globalization and increased migration and immigration it addresses what aspects of children and youth growing in ethnic minority families are universal across contexts and what aspects are more context specific The Handbook examines the individual family peers and neighborhood policy factors that protect children and promote positive adaptation It examines the factors that support children s social integration psychosocial adaptation and external functioning Finally it looks at the mechanisms that explain why social adaptation occurs
