

The Bully

Story By: Judie Eberhardt

Carson was going back to school after Spring Break. He had heard that a new boy would be starting at his school. Carson was anxious to meet him and make a new friend. That day at lunch, the new boy came and sat across from Carson. Carson said hi and asked him his name. The boy answered, "None of your business." Carson was surprised that the boy would be so mean. Carson ate his lunch in silence.

School let out, and on the walk home the new boy came up behind Carson and said, "Let me have your homework so I can copy it." "I know you finished it at school." "I'm not giving you my homework," said Carson. "That would be cheating." As Carson started to walk away, the boy tripped Carson. Carson fell, ripped his pants, and got a big scrape on his knee. The boy started laughing and ran away. Carson got up and headed home. "What happened?" asked mom when Carson came into the kitchen. The new boy at school tripped me because I wouldn't let him copy my homework," said Carson. "Who is this new boy?" mom asked. "His name is Jack, and I only know that because I heard the teacher call him that." "He was mean to me at lunch when I asked him his name," said Carson.

The next day Carson's mom went to the school and told the principal what had happened. Jack was called to the office and admitted he tripped Carson. "Why?" asked Mrs. Rogers the principal. Carson was only trying to be nice to you in the cafeteria yesterday when he asked you your name." "This is the third school I've been in since school started," said Jack. "I guess I was trying to be a tough guy so no one would mess with me." "Well, did it ever cross your mind that if you would just be yourself and be kind, the kids would be your friend?" asked Mrs. Rogers. Jack said he was very sorry. Mrs. Rogers said that Jack needed to talk to Carson and tell him he was sorry. Jack did apologize to Carson and his mom. Carson's mom invited Jack to the house for dinner. Carson told his mom that Jack is really nice but just had a hard time fitting in. "I'm glad you have a new friend," said Carson's mom.

Teaching Literacy in Third Grade Janice F. Almasi, Keli Garas-York, Leigh-Ann Hildreth, 2013-10-21 The third grade classroom is a beehive of activity in which young readers transition between emergent and more advanced levels of literacy. This expertly written guide brings to life the rewards and challenges of teaching third graders and helps teachers differentiate instruction for diverse learners. Vividly portraying a week in a highly motivating classroom, the authors present easy-to-use ideas and activities for building fluency, vocabulary, comprehension, writing, and more. Illustrations, reproducibles, grade-specific resources, and planning tips will make this handy book a boon to third grade teachers every day of the year.

Real Life Bully Prevention for Real Kids Catherine DePino, 2009-01-16 Many states currently mandate character education, and school districts across the country need anti-bullying education programs to counter the rising tide of aggression and relational aggression that is the norm among many students. In fact, many school districts now require teachers to include lessons on bully prevention in their curriculum. Real Life Bully Prevention For Real Kids addresses this pervasive problem by offering students hands-on activities. Teachers will want to use this book in their classrooms with their students as part of the school's anti-bullying curriculum. As an added bonus, the activities reinforce English language arts, social studies, and health education curricular goals. Counselors, therapists, and school administrators can also use the activities in large and small group instruction. Additionally, leaders of after-school programs and youth leadership programs, such as scouting, dramatics classes, and religious education classes, will find the activities helpful in addressing their bully prevention programs. Each activity contains a description, goals for children, and helpful hints for adults to guide their youngsters through the program.

Bullying Sandra Harris, Garth F. Petrie, 2003 Within the past few years, schools, communities, and parents throughout the world have begun to recognize that bullying is not something that can be ignored with dismissive comments or admonitions. There is no doubt that school violence is a critical problem in America's schools, and bullying is a maladaptive behavior with consequences. Bullying can be reduced, but first educators and parents must recognize the pervasive nature of the problem. This easy-to-read book describes the problem of bullying at all school levels: elementary, middle, and high. Chapters include different types of bullying that occur and how they affect the bully, the bullied, and the bystander. The authors report the results of many studies, including personal research, to discuss incidences of bullying at school and list of sources for preventing and intervening to reduce this type of misbehavior are included. For K-12 educators, professors of education, and parents.

A Bully Story Cassius Ali, 2013-07 A bully story from Author Actor Cassius Ali. Tales of individuals who experienced bullying like Bronson, who faced bullying around his home and school with the threat of being hurt or worse, and there's Ebony, who had to deal with bullying early in her third grade classroom. Each story is very different because we don't all make the same choices when we're experiencing bullying. There is something to learn when you listen to another person's story of being bullied. Notice what has been done to the poor victims that came before you so you don't sit and do nothing Watch to see when we do the same things as a bully we become the bully Bronson's Journal starts with Bronson holding a gun that isn't his to the head of a woman he doesn't know While Ebony has family issues to deal with as her story begins The art work for the book is done by a third grade young lady who aspires to be a great artist one day The photography is done by me because I'm also a photographer with a vision of passion and empathy for the world I am the Author of two poetry books The Last Word and Poetic Expression This book is written with that kind of flow as to express the story not just tell it I write fact and fiction into everything I write I have a goal to make you feel what I am saying If you have a bully story of your own you'll be sure to feel what I'm saying You'll also get to take a look inside of the journal Bronson is writing during the story It will help you better understand what this young man was thinking and feeling throughout the story
